COUNTY 'HOODLUM' HELD IN ROUND-UP

Soviets Won't Start War Says Communist Boss

Krushchev Says Reds Have Won World Rocket Superiority

MOSCOW (UP) — Nikita Khrushchev today claimed that the Soviet Union has won absolute world rocket and missile superiority but he said the Soviets "will never start a war."

In the event of another war, he said it would be "fought on the American continent," but "we too would suffer immensely."

In an exclusive two and one half hour interview with the United Press, the Soviet party leader expounded freely on world problems as he saw them and made these major points:

—Prospects for preserving world peace "aren't bad" but the possibility cannot be excluded that World War III might be started by "some lunatics."

—There probably won't be any summit meeting with the West in the nearest future, though he still wants one as "the only way out" of the East-West impasse.

Settle Major Problems

—It would be possible for Russia and the United States alone to settle major problems in bi-lateral negotiations. "If we two agree to relax international tensions, other countries won't be offended."

—Said the Soviet Union alone possesses an intercontinental ballistic missile.

—Said the first rocket launched by the Soviet Union "hit the bulls-eye" and Russia could now use rockets to "dispose of bases in Europe, Asia and Africa."

—If the Americans doubt Soviet claims in rocketry, "Let's have a peaceful rocket contest just like a rifle shooting match and they'll see for themselves."

Life-Death Struggle

—Said that a third world war would not necessarily mean the end of mankind but that it would mean the death of capitalism and the triumph of Communism.

—The emergence of another Stalin and the development of a new cult of personality in the Soviet Union is now impossible. Former Soviet Defense Chief Marshal Georgi Zhukov was removed by the Presidium and the Central Committee, not by the generals. He was "very rude and dictatorial" but no Stalin "or even half a Stalin."

Khrushchev, in the first interview he has ever given to a resident Moscow correspondent, claimed flatly that the Soviet Union now enjoys "absolute rocket superiority."

Sounds Warning

He said that if attacked, the Russians could wipe out all bases of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization and deliver a mortal blow on continental United States.

However, he said, "the prospects for peace aren't bad" due to a recent change in the balance of strength in favor of the Communist and neutral countries and the rising clamor for peace among the European as well as the American people who do not want war.

But he said the possibility of war could not be excluded. He said it might be started by some "lunatics who should be put into straitjackets."

One Person Is Hurt in Three Area Crashes

One person was injured in one of three traffic accidents reported today by Monessen police.

Injured and taken to Charleroi-Monessen Hospital was Jane Johnson, 22 of Washington, Pa. She suffered body and knee injuries and is reported in "good" condition.

Miss Johnson was a passenger in a car operated by Jack E. Drake, Blythedale, when it crashed against a traffic light standard at the intersection of Third St. and Schoonmaker Ave., about 3:50 this morning. Drake told police he must have fallen asleep at the wheel

The standard was uprooted and the light completely damaged. The standard sans light, was reinstalled this morning. The badly damaged car was towed away.

Buddy Ferris, 126 Second St. Fayette City, told police he was traveling east on Knox Ave. near Ninth St. shortly after midnight when he was involved in a collision with a car operated by Steve Swansick, 1023 Knox Ave., Monessen, who was traveling south.

Neither driver would assume responsibilty.

Ferris was accompanied by three companions when the accident happened. They were Robert Bryner, Thomas Barker and George Krivda all of Fayette City. No injuries were reported.

Two cars were involved in the third accident at 11th St., yesterday. Drivers were J. H. Pore, 1217 Athalia Ave., and Mrs. Caesar Benecccio, 440 Motheral Ave., both of Monessen.

No Decision Is Made in Case of 'Target' Death

Washington County District Attorney Michael Hanna today told The Daily Independent that his office still has not completed its investigation of the Nov. 3 shooting which resulted in the death of 16-year-old Thomas Steer Jr., 921 Summit Ave., Monessen.

Steer and four juvenile companions were engaged in "target practice" with .22 caliber rifles in an area near Twilight Borough when a slug caught Steer behind the right ear and entered his brain. He died four days later during a brain operation in Mercy Hospital, Pittsburgh.

Steer died in Allegheny County and the coroner's office there said it has turned the case over to Washington County authorities for disposition.

State police have refused to identify the juvenile who fired the bullet that hit Steer, saying it is up to juvenile officials to make such identification public.

Dr. Killian Takes Oath Of Office

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today swore in his new scientific chief of staff, Dr. James R. Killian Jr., and charged him with mobilizing the nation's brainpower in the missiles race with Russia.

One of Killian's first jobs was to clarify his authority and responsibility and his role in military missiles development. Informed sources said his job so far has only been broadly outlined.

The President has made it clear, however, that the 53-year-old president of Massachusetts Institute of Technology will have a big voice in guiding the administration's policy decisions.

From his "office of the special assistant for science and technology" in the executive office building next door to the White House he will have ready access to the President, officials said.

The President last week announced he was giving William M. Holaday, the Defense Department's missile director, all the authority of the secretary of defense in speeding up work on missiles. He has not yet clarified the relationship between Killian and Holaday or Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy.

Reds Solved Problem

Disclosure that Russia has solved the ballistic missile atmospheric re-entry problem—one of the big barriers to perfecting the ICBM—came from Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, head of the Army's ballistic missile agency.

Medaris also told a news conference Thursday night the Army has started to build its earth satellite. He put the time for launching anywhere between the end of the year and next March.

He said there was no indication of the efficiency of Russia's solution to the ICBM re-entry problem, but he said apparently it is adequate to achieve the missile's "destructive purposes."

At the time he named Killian, the President displayed the nose cone of an Army Jupiter-C test missile which he said had re-entered the atmosphere without burning up, showing the United states had the solution.

West Newton to Use Salt Spreader

West Newton Borough Council has decided to spread salt on snow-covered streets this winter.

At a meeting this week, Council agreed to purchase a Tarco Material Spreader which will be attached to a borough truck to spread the salt.

Previously, the slippery streets have been cindered.

Borough officials stated the salt method is more economical since the services of only two men will be needed — a driver and one to operate the spreader. It was also pointed out that salt is much cleaner and will not clog sewers.

DEFENDS AMERICAN EDUCATION — A. Clair Moser, associate executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Association, contrasted education in a democracy to that in a dictatorship last night during the annual banquet of the Monessen Education Association. Other speakers included Dr. Joseph Pallone, superintendent of Monessen public schools; Mrs. Ada Kuhns, president of the western convention district of the P. S. E. A. and Clifford Jones, president of the M. E. A.

Educator Defends American Plan for Public Education

Cross currents in the field of public education were discussed by speakers at the annual public relations dinner of the Monessen Education Association in Johnson's last night.

A spirited defense of the American versus the European public education plan was offered by A. Clair Moser, associate executive secretary of the Pennsylvania State Education Association and principal speaker at the affair.

The American public schools are often subject to unfavorable comparison with their European counterparts, Moser declared. A wave of criticism is now current, he said, as a result of Russia's Sputnik and the popular preoccupation with scientific education.

European schools are dedicated to providing a superior education for a few, Moser pointed out, while American schools are administered to provide an ever-better education for all. Pupils of a good school, he observed, have not just learned what to do but have become the kind of persons who know what to do.

Ask About Curriculum

Dr. Joseph Pallone, Monessen school superintendent, said that fast-breaking events in the world are creating new challenges in public education. Parent visitors at local schools this week he declared are asking fewer questions about student comfort and more about the curriculum.

He commended Monessen school directors for their understanding of the situation and suggested that the administration will have important changes to recommend in coming months to keep local schools paced to the new challenges.

Clifford Jones, president of the M.E.A., served as toastmaster at

School Kids to Bring Toilet Articles for Vets

A program to collect toilet articles for patients in veterans hospitals will be carried on in Monessen public and parochial schools, it was announced today.

The program, which is sponsored by the Allison-Lescanac Post 1190, Veterans of Foreigns Wars, will come to a close Nov. 26.

Students in all public schools and in the St. Leonard and Holy Name parochial schools have been asked to cooperate by bringing toilet articles, such as soap, tooth paste, shaving cream, lotions, and other similar items, to school.

These items will be collected by a three-man committee, composed of Frederic Feldman, Socrates Loulis and Paul Komar.

In turn they will be distributed to the hundreds of hospitalized veterans in the several veterans hospitals in the Pittsburgh district.

"We feel the school children of Monessen will deem it a privilege to be able to participate in making a hospitalized veteran happy over the Christmas season," Feldman, who is chairman of the committee, said.

Dairy Bar Here Is Rifled by Thieves

Tracey's Dairy Bar at 1323 Summit Ave., Monessen, was broken into sometime during the night and looted of about $20 in silver, it was reported by police.

Entrance was gained by drilling holes over the front door lock. Once inside, the burglar rifled the cash register. Attempts to loot pinball machines were unsuccessful.

Mike Saflin, owner, said he closed the store at 8 p. m. yesterday and discovered the burglary when he opened at 7 o'clock this morning.

Nothing else was reported missing.

Arrested with 60 Others at New York Site

APALACHIN, N. Y. (UP)—Gabriel Mannarino, New Kensington, was one of more than 60 "hoods, gangsters and their associates from all over the country" flushed from a mountain-top barbecue here Thursday by state police.

Police had set up a road-block against their escape and questioned them throughout the night.

Mannarino was listed as the operator of the Ken Iron and Steel Co.

Also picked up was notorious gangster Vito Genovese.

State Police Sgt. Edgar Croswell said they were "a good cross-section of the nation's hoodlums."

They told police, who hauled them out of some 25 new black limousines, that they'd been calling on a sick friend — Joseph Barbera, head of an Endicott, N. Y., beverage distributing firm, who has beat four indictments for murder.

Federal tax agents also took part in the questioning. Police said none of the men was armed but all carried large amounts of cash, up to $10,000.

Orders Costello

In addition to Genovese, boss of a dozen rackets and said to be so high in crime that he gives orders to Frank Costello, the visiting hoodlums included Joseph Profaci of Brooklyn, reputed to be an elder statesman of the Italian Mafia or "Black Hand" Society, Vincent Rao of Yonkers, another long-reputed top gangster, and Louis Santos, of Havana, Cuba, who told police he was manager of the Sans Souci Hotel there and had just flown up for the day.

Most of the visitors, whose names read like a who's who of the Italian underworld, were from New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania. But there was a good sprinkling of top underworld brass from California, Ohio, Illinois, Texas, Massachusetts and Colorado as well.

Routine Questioning

Authorities called the roundup a "routine apprehension for questioning" and said the men were to be let go because it was determined none was wanted by police anywhere.

It was reported a few attempted to skip into the woods on the estate outside this village near the Pennsylvania line, but were quickly rounded up. Troopers said some of the men represented the "hierarchy of crime" in the United States. Dressed in expensive suits, their shoes muddied from wet ground, the men filled nearly every corner of the police substation at nearby Vestal.

State police said the house had been under surveillance for about 25 hours before the roundup began. Barbera is a well-known figure in Endicott. During World War II he was fined $5,000 for illegal acquisition of sugar.

Among others questioned, with

Mannarino Is Known Numbers Figure in County

Gabriel (Kelly) Mannarino, 50, New Kensington, and three other Pittsburgh district racket figures were among the more than 60 hoodlums and their associates, flushed out of a mountain-top rendezvous by state police at Apalachin, N. Y., yesterday.

There was speculation the meeting may have been a conference of a national racketeering syndicate.

Mannarino is one of three brothers who reputedly operate the numbers racket in Westmoreland, Butler and Armstrong counties. There have been frequent charges that the Mannarinos are attempting to invade Allegheny county as well.

Gabriel Mannarino is also the the son-in-law of Frank Amato, suspected head of the notorious "Mafia" operations in this section of the country. Amato is now seriously ill in Miami, Fla., and there are reports that the hoodlums are quarrelling over who should succeed him as boss of the "Italian underworld ring."

Mannarino, oddly enough, served as a government witness in the 1952 federal vote fraud trial

Anastasia Link Studied in Parley

NEW YORK (UP)—Acting chief of detectives Edward Byrnes, in charge of the police investigation of the gangland slaying here of Albert Anastasia, said today he didn't know whether a meeting of top hoodlums in upstate New York had anything to do with the murder.

Byrnes said that after he has studied the list of men who met near Apalachin Thursday at the home of Joseph Barbera he will "determine whether or not to question any of them."

"We don't know as yet what the purpose of the meeting was," Byrnes said. "The matter will have to be discussed. We do not know if the meeting has any connection with the Anastasia case."

Teen-age Gang on Probation in Beating

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP) — Three members of a teen-age gang were placed on three years probation Thursday by Judge Richard D. Laird for the brutal beating of a Westmoreland County man last July.

The youths were John A. Lopez, 19, Jeannette, Stanley W. White, 19, Arona, and Joseph T. Hoak, 18, Greensburg. Four other members of the gang were in the custody of juvenile authorities.

The gang beat Lawrence L. Harroid, 41, of Grapeville, following an argument in an all-night restaurant here.

New Blue Cross Rate Increases Are Filed

HARRISBURG (UP)—Proposed rate increases affecting about four million Pennsylvanians have been filed with the state Insurance Department by two Blue Cross Plan organizations—the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia and the Hospital Service Association of Western Pennsylvania.

The new rates would mean higher Blue Cross charges to two million subscribers in Pittsburgh and other western Pennsylvania areas and a like number in the Philadelphia area.

State Insurance Commissioner Francis B. Smith said hearings will be held on the proposed increases "as soon as possible." He notified the four other hospital plan organizations in the state to file any contemplated increases with the department immediately so that hearings could be held on these proposals.

Smith said "responsible organizations" will be permitted to testify at the hearings and cross-examine witnesses. Smith will preside and members of his staff and the state Justice Department will assist him.

Details of the proposed increases as they will affect the Philadelphia area subscribers were disclosed by the Philadelphia association. In most categories rates would be boosted 50 per cent or more.

As an example standard contract group rates for a single person would go from the present $1.65 to $2.55 a month, for a husband and wife from $4.95 to $7.45 and for a family from $4.95 to $7.45 monthly.

The Philadelphia organization also offered a new "cooperative contract" under slightly lower rates (five to 10 cents per month) than the standard contract. However, the subscriber would be required to pay $5 per day for the first 15 days of confinement.

Donora Woman Seeks Damages

Judy Creevey Bachetti, Donora, has filed a suit in Washington County Court to recover damages in excess of $2,500 as a result of an alleged auto accident.

Named as the defendant is Alexander Holovich, Prospect Ave., Donora.

The alleged accident occurred at about 4 p. m., Sept. 12, 1956, on Route 906 near Webster. The suit charges that the defendant's auto collided with one driven by Henry A. Bachetti, in which Mrs. Bachetti was a passenger.

It is claimed that the defendant failed to yield one-half of the highway.

Disliked Oatmeal, Lad Shoots, Kills Father

GREENSBURG, Pa. (UP)—A sanity test has been ordered for a 10-year-old boy who shot his father to death Thursday following an argument over a breakfast cereal, authorities said today.

Harry Geyer Sr., 41, a striking Pittsburgh Railways employe, was killed by a bullet from a .22-caliber rifle fired by his son, Harry Jr.

Westmoreland County Coroner Stephen D. Yoney quoted the boy as saying, "I've been thinking of doing this for about a month." Yoney said the good - looking youngster showed no remorse.

The slaying occurred in the Geyer home at Level Green, near Trafford. State police Cpl. Malcolm Kaus of the Greensburg barracks said the boy apparently rebelled when his father served him oatmeal with eggs. Kaus said the boy became angry when refused another kind of cereal.

When the father went upstairs, the boy got the rifle and waited at the bottom of the steps. As soon as the father started down the stairs, the son fired. The bullet struck the father above the right eye.

The boy reloaded immediately after the firing and was set to shoot again, police said.

Mrs. Harry Geyer, an expectant mother, said she rushed downstairs when she heard the shot and asked her son what happened.

"I shot dad," he was quoted as saying.

"He said he had been thinking of killing his father, because his father was strict with him and reprimanded him," State Police Captain James F. Maroney declared.

But Mrs. Geyer could give no reason for the tragedy.

"Harry just adored his father. I don't know. I don't understand," she said.

Attempt to Blow Up Shopping Center

GREENSBURG, Pa., (UP) — State police today reported an attempt to blow up a building at the Pleasant Park Shopping Center in Hempfield Twp.

Sgt. A. C. Wood, state police fire marshal, said the building, which houses a television shop, heating firm and tire shop, was broken into Wednesday night. A gas line was disconnected and a fuse was run outside the building and then lighted.

The fuse failed to burn into the gas-filled building, Wood said.

17 Bodies Found In Plane Crash

HONOLULU (UP)— An air-sea armada that found the bodies of 17 persons killed in the crash of a Pan American Stratocruiser combed a small area of the Pacific today in the slender hope of finding survivors.

None of the searchers held out much hope of finding survivors, but it was a chance they could not afford to overlook. The search concentrated on an area 1,040 miles northeast of Hawaii.

Lions Club in 10th Charter Night Fete

The Monessen Lions Club observed its 10th annual "Charter Night" with a big birthday party last night at Twin Coaches.

The ten candles on the huge cake were lit by each of the past presidents, who gave a brief resume of the club's progress during the past decade.

John G. Check Jr., first Lions president, placed the first candle on the cake. Then followed Armand Niccolai, Walter Labeka, Joseph Venneri who substituted for Bud Samuels, Henry Dragan, Ross Aiello, Russ Forester, David Victoria, Bill Essey and Peter Roman who acted in behalf of Dan Salotti.

The main speaker on the program was District Governor Arthur T. Stratton. Also offering brief remarks were Deputy District Governor Ross Aiello and Zone Chairman J.O. Clawson.

Introduced were the following guests and their wives; Judge David Weiss, Mayor Hugo Parente, District Attorney-elect Earl Keim, Page official Paul Nicoden, and Daily Independent City Editor Allen Kline.

Roman, Lions vice-president, presented the welcome in the absence of the president.

Steve Wisyanski acted as toastmaster. He introduced Mrs. Anna Jurnak who is in charge of the Lions regular dinner meetings at the Slovak Home.

Rev. Theodore Benkovic offered the benediction and invocation. Program entertainment was supplied by the Four Specs, comprised of Lion members Jimmy Tucci, Walter Labeka, David Victoria and John Lancas. The song leader was Labeka.

A moment of silence was observed for deceased charter members Daniel Peters and Joseph R. Check.

Others who spoke briefly at the meeting or responded to introduction included John Lancas, school board president; Mrs. Ada Kuhns, president of the western convention district of the P.S.E.A.; and George Cieply, recently resigned executive secretary of the Monessen Chamber of Commerce. Cieply was presented a certificate recognizing his extraordinary interest in educational problems and his helpful cooperation with the M.E.A.

Group singing was led by Reah Seanor, accompaniment by Katherine King. Margaret Russell asked the invocation.

which involved election officials in Monessen, New Kensington and Brownsville. Investigators learned that Kelly was out-of-town at the time of the election, yet a vote was cast under his name.

Kelly admitted on the witness stand that he did not vote.

In connection with the same trial, Kelly was accused of attempting to bribe Harry (Doc) Truitt, another witness. He was later acquitted on this charge.

Police said the hoodlums were rounded up yesterday merely for questioning. No arrests were made.

One well informed police source speculated that gangland's top figures gathered to discuss the racket situation. This no doubt would include the recent slaying of Albert Anastasia, a "Mafia" leader, in New York City.

It is generally believed that the Mannarinos operated the national syndicate's "layoff" headquarters for the eastern seaboard in New Kensington. This headquarters was closed in 1956 when word leaked out that it was to be a target in a nationwide series of raids on key numbers establishments.

Mannarino is the young brother of Sam, reported to be head of the gang which also includes another brother, "Jojo."

Other Pittsburgh area racket figures picked up yesterday were:

Michael Genovese, 38, of Gibsonia, operator of a Pittsburgh car wash and restaurant.

Frank Valenti, 46, Pittsburgh racketeer now reported living in Rochester, N.Y.

His brother, Costenza Valenti, alias Stanley Valenti, 31, reported to be a wholesale produce salesman in Rochester, N.Y.

The Mannarino brothers until three years ago owned the Sans Souci Hotel at Havana, Cuba. The present owner of the hotel, Louis Santos, 42, also was at the Apalachin meeting.

Alliance College President Blasts School Editorial

CAMBRIDGE SPRINGS, Pa. (UP)—The president of Alliance College warned the student body today that if the school newspaper "The Hilltopper" continued to criticize the board of trustees "drastic disciplinary action will be taken."

Dr. Arthur P. Coleman said a recent editorial in the paper had given members of the Polish National Alliance, sponsor of the college, an impression that "things are very bad at Alliance College."

Coleman said the board of trustees was concerned with the effect the editorial would have on a current fund-raising campaign among American families of Polish descent.

The college president said that extra copies of the edition containing the editorial had been mailed out to leaders of Polish organizations.

The editorial in question criticized strongly the discharge of Fred Stolzenbach, college business manager, as of next Dec. 31. Stolzenbach would not comment on his discharge but said he has been offered a position as an assistant professor at Geneva College, Beaver Falls, Pa.

French Delegates Walk Out of NATO Meeting

PARIS (UP) — The French delegation walked out of a NATO meeting today in protest against British and American arms shipments to Tunisia.

The French withdrew from a meeting of NATO parliamentarians only hours after two British planes landed at a Tunis airport with the first shipment of arms for the 3,000-man Tunisian army.

The British and American decision to supply arms to Tunisia—and thereby beat Russia to the punch—gravely strained the big three alliance and threatened to bring down the government of Premier Felix Gaillard.

The move reflected French wrath at the American and British decision to override French opposition and supply arms to Tunisia. France fears the arms will reach the Algerian rebels it has been fighting for more than three years.

French Angered

French anger also was reflected in morning newspapers which proclaimed in front page editorials "France cannot accept this humiliation and betrayal . . . she is not to be treated like a vassal."

Gaillard was going before the National Assembly to request special taxation powers to end the nation's economic crisis. Informed sources said he would make an official statement then on the crisis in French and Anglo-American relations.

Reports circulated in Paris this morning that Gaillard sent a personal message Thursday to President Eisenhower protesting the arms situation.

The split came at a crucial time. The NATO summit conference is scheduled for Dec. 16 in Paris to plot new defense strategy against the new Soviet scientific achievements, and a divided front could prove a major setback to the West.

Ike Going To Talks

Both President Eisenhower and British Prime Minister Harold Macmillan plan to attend the NATO meeting.

Unconfirmed reports circulated here and in London that Macmillan may fly to Paris next week for an urgent conference with Gaillard while Foreign Minister Christian Pineau is conferring in Washington with U.S. officials.

The announcement in London and Washington that the arms were being flown to Tunisia was believed to have been speeded up by reports that a Soviet ship was en route to Tunisia with arms. Later reports identified the ship as Egyptian, not Russian.

District Persons Named to Serve As County Jurors

Clerk of Courts Raymond Turner today announced that these district jurors have been drawn for the Westmoreland County Court of Common Pleas during the week of Nov. 18:

Monessen: Bronislaw Lachowicz, Mrs. Helen Malik, Andrew Pacak, Herbert J. Smith.

We Heard It— ABOUT the VALLEY

(By The Independent News Staff)

Who Was Driving?

At the conslusion of this week's Monessen School Board meeting, Solicitor Dan Myshin asked Daily Independent reporter Larry Doyle if he were headed downtown.

"Sure," replied Doyle, "I'll wait on you."

Presently the two men left the building. They walked together down Sixth St., turned right at Reed Ave. and proceeded another block.

"How far away did you park your car?" asked the tiring Dyle.

Replied the astonished Myshin: "I don't have a car; I thought you had one!"

She's Commercial

Jim Weir, who teaches driver training at Rostraver Twp. High School, was stumped the other day while explaining the workings of an auto engine.

He pointed out the carburetor and explained its duties and then stated that if something didn't seem to be working correctly be sure and take it to a garage immediately.

With this, one of his new students piped up: "Yes, there's a good one (garage) across from the high school."

She was the daughter of Alex Turda, who operates a repair shop across from the high school.

Wonder Who Won?

Joe Janosik is still chuckling about the customer who walked into his drug store yesterday and ordered eight issues of a Pittsburgh paper.

Laughed Janosik:

"He whipped out a pair of scissors, clipped out the football entry blank from each and then returned the papers neatly folded."

Hard to Believe

When Mrs. Herman Brightwell of Brownstown suffered an arm fracture some weeks back, her husband volunteered to assume the kitchen duties.

He found the job so interesting that his family can't get him away from the domestic chores any more.

"He calls himself a dishpan artist," reports a member of the family.

Corning Advances

In President Eisenhower's recent telecast, he pointed to a missile head which had penetrated outer space, then returned through the earth's atmosphere without burning up.

An official at Corning Glass Co. reports that his firm's new Pyroceram has passed similar tests.

Bar with Two 'R's'

An out-of-towner was checking into the Grand Hotel, Monessen, the other night and asked Bill Cain, owner, if the hotel had a bar.

Cain said, "Sure, he's up in room 18." What do you mean "he,"? the stranger asked.

"Frankie Barr," Cain replied. "That's the only 'bar' we have here."

Better Than Walking

A fellow was sitting in the local Elks Club the other night moaning about a business deal that was all mixed up.

"It's enough to drive you to drink," the fellow told Rudy Santora, steward.

The sympathetic Santora said, "Well, that's better than walking."

He's Sympathetic

Last election eve, a local candidate was standing in front of the City Building when he was told that one of his best neighbors had just died.

The politician — all heart — said: "There goes another vote."

Got Bird, Lost Dog!

Did you hear about the three professional men from Monessen who went out hunting the other day?

They didn't do too bad as far as game went, but what hurt was they lost their dog.

One of the men returned to the scene the next day, but no luck, the dog was gone.

Ducks Come First

Albert Lane of Fayette City R.D., insists this is true. En route to work this morning, he was held up on the highway near Fairhope.

Reason: A flock of ducks were waddling in a pool on the road and simply refused to make way for the autos.

Education Problems In State Will Be Studied by 'Task Force'

HARRISBURG (UP) — The Joint State Government Commission expects to have a "task force" committee begin a comprehensive study of Pennsylvania's higher education problems by January.

Dr. Paul H. Wueller, associate director of the Legislature's research arm, said the staff has completed basic research on the college education problem.

"Now it is up to the executive committee to decide the number on the task force and the legislative leaders to appoint the members," Wueller said.

The problem of higher education was turned over to the commission by the 1957 Legislature after House Republican leaders flatly rejected Gov. George M. Leader's program involving a comprehensive plan of 5,000 free scholarships, junior colleges and student loans.

The commission's executive committee meets Monday where it is expected to vote for a 10 to 12 member task force committee. Assembly leaders of both parties are expected to name committee members by mid-December.

Meanwhile, House Majority Leader Albert W. Johnson (R-McKean) made an apparent about face from his previous stand on the administration's higher education program. Johnson said Thursday he would press for state scholarships for science and engineering students to "help implement the necessary increase in scientific training suggested by President Eisenhower.

Calls for Legislation

Johnson said he would recommend to the commission's executive committee that legislation be prepared for the scholarships and that a study be made to determine how the state can help colleges increase science teaching facilities.

The governor's 35 million dollar scholarship program was proposed to the Legislature last June in a special message. It drew a chilly reception, leading Johnson to remark, "the give away of 5,000 free scholarships is another step toward a welfare state."

The program died in a House committee, but many of its features were incorporated in a resolution to the research arm requesting a study and recommendations for the 1959 Legislature.

Dr. Wueller said he "expected" the task force would have progress reports prior to the opening session of the Legislature Jan. 5, 1959.

"We hope to release some findings and recommendations before the lawmakers return so that we can put the facts before the Commonwealth and create some healthy discussion," Wueller said.

"Since the Russian Sputnik, our study has drawn numerous inquiries, equally from private citizens and legislators," he said. "We plan to turn up what we can in all phases of education in Pennsylvania, from the elementary level through college."

'Salesman' Held For Questions To Housewives

A Pittsburgh "crucifix salesman" went from the sublime to somewhat the ridiculous in soliciting housewives in the Park Manor section of Monessen yesterday afternoon.

Besides attempting to sell crucifixes — without a seller's license — 38-year-old Joseph Lazar was a brazen inquirer.

While giving his pitch to sell the religious articles, Lazar would boldly ask the housewife if "she was wearing underclothing" Lt. Joseph Reday, who investigated, said today.

Three or four housewives complained to police after shooing Lazar out of their homes. He was arrested while giving a "sales talk" in the living room of another Park Manor housewife.

He admitted selling without a license and also the clothing inquiries, stating he didn't know "what possessed me."

He volunteered to leave town immediately, but police had other plans. He was lodged in City jail for selling without a license and disorderly conduct. He was released on $50 forfeit and scheduled for a hearing in police court tonight.

He "slipped" on this one, Reday stated.

Student Council In Busy Schedule

The Monessen High School Student Council has drawn up a busy schedule of events.

Among other things, the Council will sponsor a motion picture entitled "County Fair" on April 2.

Also planned is a variety show. Other schools in the valley have been invited to contribute acts. Also on the agenda is a safety program, which will feature a talk by a member of the State Police.

The current magazine sale, designed to help finance the Council's foreign exchange student program, has been extended for another week.

Absentee Ballots Awaited

The Washington County Elections Bureau revealed today that one of the two military ballots mailed to Monongahela men in the armed forces has been received.

Today at 4 p. m. is the deadline for accepting absentee ballots.

Interest in the two ballots arises largely from the fact that they may have a vital bearing on one of the closest municipal contests on record in Monongahela — the fight for the second seat on City Council between Republican Lewis S. Warren and Democrat William Pellegrini in which Warren was an apparent one-vote winner. Unofficial returns gave Warren 1,240 votes and Pellegrini 1,239.

The Election Bureau did not disclose the name of the serviceman whose ballot has been received, but it is known that one of the two mailed out went to Warren's son, Infantry Capt. James R. Warren, now serving in Korea.

No Tabulation

A spokesman for the Election Bureau said this morning that the official return board has not yet started to tabulate the Monongahela vote.

It is compiling the returns from county communities on an alphabetical basis, and there has been no indication when it will reach the "Ms." Sticker and write-in votes in many districts have slowed the count.

The spokesman said that rumors to the contrary, no petitions for the opening of one or more Monongahela ballot boxes have been filed. The deadline is five days after the completion of the official count.

Seven on Stand in Kittle Murder Case

Seven witnesses testified yesterday in the Washington County court murder case of Orville Kittle, who is being tried for the slaying of his nephew George Wayne Lasko, last August 10.

After Speers Police Chief Charles C. Hazlett left the stand, the witnesses appeared in the following order:

Dr. Ernest L. Abernathy, pathologist of Washington Hospital testified that Lasko died as a result of a gunshot wound in the chest and disclosed his examination of the body showed no powder burns.

The State was apparently trying to substantiate the testimony of Hazlett that Lasko was three or more feet away from Kittle when the latter fired the fatal shot with Hazlett's revolver.

California Chief of Police Robert C. Elliott who drove the Borough Police car to the scene and fired one warning shot into the air to try to intimidate Kittle. The latter left the scene in the California police car and was later captured at a state police roadblock in Greene County.

Warren Musgrave, Roscoe, who was at Freddie's Tavern adjacent to the driveway where the shooting occurred and testified to some of the happenings.

Sherman Ziskind, Roscoe, who accompanied Hazlett to the scene, was deputized by Hazlett, and who was also an eye-witness to much of the action preceeding and following the shooting.

Norma Ziskind, Roscoe, who accompanied Hazlett and her husband to identify a man suspected of burglarizing the Hollow Inn in Roscoe earlier on August 10. It was she who pointed out Kittle to Hazlett and her husband.

County Detective Elmer Obitko aided in the follow-up investigation of the shooting.

We Must Decide What's Important

SOME of the Democratic politicians who are addressing themselves to matters involving the national defense, foreign policy and scientific progress are sounding more and more like calamity-howling opportunists seeking partisan advantage and less and less like patriotic statesmen with contributions to make to the nation's strength and understanding.

On the basis of his speech to the Charleroi Chamber of Commerce on Wednesday evening, young Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan would have to be included in this category.

Gov. Williams seemed to be thinking of Sputnik mainly as a political bludgeon with which to club the Eisenhower administration. In mournful paragraphs, he seemed to be trying to imply, without quite having the courage to say it, that if we had had a Democrat in the White House the United States would have won the race into outer space.

* * *

PROBABLY without realizing it, Gov. Williams contradicted himself in such a way as to expose the partisan intent of his criticism.

Before starting to read his prepared text, he made reference to a mural of Charleroi's parking lot which dominated the stage. Noting some vacant parking spaces in the picture, Gov. Williams jested that Detroit would enjoy selling Charleroi some more cars to fill the empty spaces.

But in his text, the Governor made quite a point of his opinion that the nation's material strength has not been properly mobilized to meet the Sputnik challenge.

". . . Unless America mobilizes all of its physical and spiritual resources," he said, "our way of life is threatened with extinction, and our period of greatness and freedom is at an end."

At another point, Gov. Williams demanded that we be prepared with "balanced military force" to defeat the Soviet Union in either thermo-nuclear war or with conventional weapons in limited wars.

Surely he realizes that the nation cannot sustain this kind of preparedness while Detroit makes automobiles as usual. Another influential Democrat, Adlai Stevenson, was saying just this week that what the country needs is fewer "big tail fins" and more research and education.

We would make a wager, however, that if President Eisenhower should propose a full-scale industrial mobilization for war, in which the automobile industry would be among the first casualties, Gov. Williams and his political mentor, Walter Reuther, would be the first to scream protest.

* * *

ALMOST certainly, the American people are going to have to revise the distribution of their national energies. And this may well involve reducing the size of some tail fins.

They may also have to rearrange some of their moral and spiritual values. How many of the folks at the Charleroi dinner, one wonders, went to hear a serious discussion of national problems by a prominent political figure; how many wanted to support a civic affair; and how many were attracted by an entertainer whose stock-in-trade seems to be an off-beat sex appeal that falls somewhere between Lord Fauntleroy and Professor Kinsey?

In this process of revision and rearrangement our people will have to decide just what it is that is important to them and to their country. And they will have to give these things more of their attention, even if it means fewer automobiles, less politics-as-usual and more respect for lasting values in the choices of daily living.

Worth the Trouble

PEOPLE of Monessen and vicinity are experiencing some inconvenience as a result of the rebuilding of the western segment of Schoonmaker Ave., one of the principal entries to the downtown business district.

It is natural, perhaps to be impatient with such inconvenience. And certainly every practical measure should be taken to minimize it.

But Monessen may have a good deal of this sort of thing to contend with in the years ahead. It is going to be one of the prices we shall have to pay for some of the civic improvements which are planned.

So we ought to try to restrain our complaints and meet the inconvenience with as much good humor as we can manage. When we are enjoying the many benefits to be derived from these improvements, we will soon forget the discomfort involved in bringing them about.

Merry-Go-Round—

Negroes of North Still Democrats

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — Experts of both political parties have been studying Negro voting returns in the recent New York-New Jersey elections to see how much Little Rock changed the political picture. They have also been studying southern editorial reaction.

Mr. Pearson

The conclusion is that Negro voting in the north hasn't slid away from the Democratic fold one iota, though it may slide away in the south.

There is also some belief that a third-party bolt from the Democratic fold in the south is losing momentum.

In the Harlem voting for mayor, Democratic experts point to the fact that the Republican candidate for mayor, Robert Christenberry, polled only 19.5 per cent of the vote in the 12th District of upper Harlem; whereas in 1950 the Republican candidate for the Senate, Joe Hanlon, polled 21.3 per cent.

In lower Harlem, the 14th District, Christenberry did a little better but not much. He won 14 per cent of the vote, whereas in 1950 Republicans polled 10.9 per cent.

In presidential years, the Negro vote for Eisenhower in Harlem went higher, up to 36.3 per cent in the 12th District in 1956. But the over-all Negro vote in New York still remained 70 per cent Democratic even in that year.

Changes in South

In the south, the political experts figure that older Negroes will remain with the Democratic party; younger Negroes perhaps bolt to the Republicans.

Older Negroes still remember FDR and the early New Deal days which gave the Negro the same unemployment benefits as white citizens.

Younger Negroes, however, have little if any recollection of the depression. They note the fact that the chief opponents to civil rights in the south today are Democrats; and that the chief speeches against civil rights that get publicity along the Potomac are made by Democratic senators.

Therefore, younger Negroes, if and when they get registered and get the right to vote under the new civil rights bill, will probably vote Republican.

Meanwhile, statements by such Democratic moderates as Gov. J. P. Coleman of Mississippi are being observed by the political experts of both parties. He and many young Democrats in the south have urged a moderate course rather than a bolt from the party. Young southern Democrats even selected Catholic Sen. John Kennedy of Massachusetts to speak at their convention in Baptist-dominated Mississippi — an indication of new moderate, tolerant thinking in the south.

Kremlin Timetable

The Kremlin timetable for the Near East seems to be moving on the same schedule this writer reported when in that area two months ago.

The timetable calls for a move into Jordan within three months; not by war, but by fomenting trouble through Syrian and Egyptian agents, the overthrow of young King Hussein; the joining of Syria and Egypt through Jordan; and, three months later, a similar political move on the oil of Saudi Arabia.

Mobs in Damascus are already calling for the assassination of King Hussein; while the Cairo radio is inciting Jordanians to revolt.

Above the young King's desk, when I interviewed him in Amman, was the picture of his grandfather, King Abdullah, who had met secretly on two occasions with Mrs. Golda Meir, now foreign minister of Israel. Mrs. Meir had crossed into Jordanian Jerusalem, disguised as an Arab woman, to discuss peace between Jordan and Israel. Anti-Israel Arabs, learning that King Abdullah wanted peace, shot him as he prayed in the Mosque of Omar in Old Jerusalem.

This gives some inkling of what the young King is up against if he tries to make peace with Israel, or even if he remains friendly to the United States and England. Palestinian refugees have been purposely prevented from resettling in other areas so they will remain a volatile political mob, ready to revolt against any government working for peace.

These are the political tactics the Kremlin is now using. It is also using the biggest trump card of all — the psychological victory of Sputnik and the ICBM. These are why the Eisenhower Doctrine, once considered a big stick, is now like shaking a twig in the Near East. It's also why the United States will find it almost impossible to stop the Russian timetable without war.

Ducks, Limited!

From Milwaukee—

Nation Wants Stern Action

By ROSCOE DRUMMOND

MILWAUKEE — To meet the challenge of Soviet science President Eisenhower has asked for a "sternly demanding" public opinion.

From a first-hand look at public reaction here in the mid-West, he is going to have it.

Mr. Drummond

Whether the White House realizes it or not, this state of public opinion can and, I believe, will be "sternly demanding" of the President as well as of others. If I read the signs correctly, there is no wish for soft leadership nor for soft words.

There is no visible complacency in interior America where I have been traveling and there is little disposition to take the President's words on science and security as more than a modest beginning toward what urgently needs to be done.

Well Received

I do not mean that Mr. Eisenhower's calm counsel is not being well received. It is being well received.

The country has been yearning for fuller facts from the White House and is glad to get them; it is relieved to hear and to feel that the President is taking personal charge — and responsibility — for the task of closing the gap with the Soviets in the weapons of the future.

But no avalanche of hats is being tossed into the air. The people I have talked with show greater interest in Mr. Eisenhower's warning of the danger of falling fatally behind the Russians than in the assurance, however welcome, that the immediate peril is not as great as some might think.

As one editorial writer put it, there is "concern without consternation."

Country Uneasy

For several days now I have been on the road continuously. I have been having contact with fairly sizable audiences in larger cities and in smaller communities. From the tenor and temper of their questions and from the editorials in the local newspapers, most of which are normally pro-administration most of the time, it seems to me accurate to report:

That the country well understands that the real peril is not that we will be plunged into a hot war but that, unless we close the gap in modern weapons, we will lose the cold war through diplomatic extortion without the Kremlin having to fire a shot. This is why the country is uneasy and uncomfortable — and this is all to the good.

That the public is eager to give solid support to the President and to Congress once it is convinced that that support has been earned.

That while the President's reassuring words are welcome, there is an evident withholding of a verdict that they lay out a program of action equal to the need.

That there is visible nearly everywhere a Missouri-like attitude of show-me. For this reason I am persuaded that the political leadership in Washington, whether Republican or Democratic, presidential or congressional, which shows both vigor and alertness, will be rewarded accordingly.

Editorial Comment

What impresses one most of all is the clarity and the sharpness of the response of the smaller city newspapers of the mid-West.

This is the view from Evansville, Ind.: "Triumphs to match and surpass the Sputniks are possible, but we cannot achieve them casually while giving our main attention to the idea of having two new cars in every garage."

From Eau Claire, Wis.: "Sputnik II forcefully underscores the need for a tremendous new effort by the United States. If we settle for anything less than this, we may be settling for something considerably less than survival."

From Fort Wayne, Ind.: "An era has ended for the United States. It was an era in which our nation thought it could keep ahead of the rest of the world without half trying. . .Something important has happened. We hope that it is now clear to every national official from President Eisenhower down."

All of this means one thing: that Mr. Eisenhower has a responsive, aroused, "sternly demanding" public opinion which he can summon to his side the instant he persuades the country that he is doing all that is needed — and a little more — to meet the Soviet challenge.

Obviously it won't be unanimous but it will be more than sufficient to over-ride the timid and the blind.

Small NATO Nations Ask Ground Forces

By CHARLES M. McCANN

The smaller countries of Western Europe are demanding a radical revision of North Atlantic Treaty Organization policies.

They feel that the United States and Great Britain are concentrating too much on the possibilities of nuclear warfare.

Mr. McCann

They want the larger allies to remember that in the event of war with Soviet Russia, the smaller countries would be overrun by Red army ground forces unless Allied ground forces can stop them.

The stand of the smaller allies has been expressed forcefully in a report made to a meeting, now being held in Paris, of delegates from the parliaments of the 15 NATO countries.

Report Important

There seems no doubt that this report will play an important part in the big meeting of the heads of government of NATO countries including President Eisenhower which is to meet in Paris Dec 16.

The report to the parliamentary conference was drawn up by Lt. Gen. Rudolph Calmeyer of the Netherlands and Arthur Gilson of Belgium.

"The structure of the NATO ground forces. . .is undergoing a steady disintegration," the report said.

"The Soviet threat can not be met simply by atom bombs.

"The Soviet military threat is still primarily by means of ground forces supplied by air forces. This is a nightmare for those peoples who are not separated from the Red armies by an ocean or at least by the channel" — Britain's English Channel.

Seeks More Troops

The report demanded that NATO maintain a minimum of 30 divisions, equipped with tactical atomic weapons and covered by adequate air forces.

There was a note of some bitterness in the reference to the protection that the Atlantic Ocean gives to the United States and the English Channel gives to Britain. A reference to the strategy of "massive retaliation" against Russia by the atomic powers in NATO seemed somewhat sarcastic. Massive retaliation would hurt Russia, probably cripple it. But what the smaller countries need to protect them is infantry, tanks, artillery, tactical air forces.

The Woman's View—

Women Taking Lead In World of Toys

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UP)—Playthings for small fry represent a realistic payoff for many women.

For it turns out that the world of toys increasingly is woman's world. . . women have had a hand in the design, manufacture, or the sale of a goodly chunk of the 1½ billion dollars worth of toys which will be sold this year. The Toy Manufacturers of the U. S. A. said the figure will set a record.

Gay Pauley

It listed several dozen women in top jobs in the field — as designers, president or other executive in some of the largest companies.

These included Mme B Alexander, boss of a New York firm which specializes in dolls fit for a "10 best dressed" list; Mrs. Hazelle H. Rollins, partner with her husband in a Kansas City company making marionettes; Mrs. Jennie Graves, president of a Medford, Mass. firm specializing in dolls and costumes; Mrs. W. W. Rushton, president of an Atlanta company which turns out 10,000 stuffed animals a day; and Mary Bauer, vice-president and designer for Ideal Toy, world's largest doll manufacturer.

"But it is in the field of invention where the ladies are beginning to shine," said Alice Nichols. Miss Nichols and her partner, Felicia Parker, started out three years ago selling a new word game called "Bali" and have expanded into a new role—acting as agents for toy and game inventors generally.

"About a third of the ideas which come in here are from women," said Miss Nichols. "One of the things most toy inventors—man or woman—have in common is parenthood. A mother trying to think of a new way to keep junior from underfoot produces a new idea in toys."

Many Nichols - Parker clients wish merely to sell their idea to an established manufacturer and collect royalties. Others go into business for themselves.

"Pup-Kits"

Mrs. Eliot Atkinson, a Palm Beach, Fla. nursery school teacher, collects on a make-believe loaf of bread, designed for pre-school children to "slice."

Felt puppets made for her own three children started Mrs. Howard Gasaway, of Columbus, Ohio, into a profitable sideline of marketing "pup-kits."

Mary McSweeney, formerly an advertising executive with a Cleveland department store, created the "It's Me" doll, whose features and coloring are similar to that of the small owner. Parent just sends in a photograph of tot, and gets in return a painted, cardboard likeness, with 10 costumes.

The Lighter Side—

Song Is Big Star of 'Sayonara', Fine Film

By DOC QUIGG

NEW YORK (UP) — I saw a good movie last night. Maybe it just seemed good because I hadn't seen a movie for many months. But if this sort of thing keeps up, I'm going to be driven away from television and back into the palace of the silver screen.

Its name is "Sayonara," and this was a preview. The picture will open next month in New York and around the country in January. The real stars of the film are the countryside, color, and customs of Japan. Marlon Brando is fine in the leading role.

Red Buttons, a guy who learned his business in the sweat and toil of the burlesque stage and who took a rough kicking around after a one-year smash as a comedian on TV, is going to be established as a movie actor of some stature when "Sayonara" opens.

Admired Songwriter

But the personality I was pulling for did not appear in the show. All he did was write the theme song which has the same title as the movie.

The song "Sayonara" has been out only four weeks, but it's had seven recordings and several more records are being made. It's a nice thing to happen to a man who this fall is celebrating his 50th anniversary as a song writer. This one-time waif of New York's melting pot lower East Side, a paper-peddler who ran away from home at 14, began singing on street corners for pennies and progressed to singing waiter.

His name was Izzy Baline. He finally got a singing job at Mike Salter's Saloon on Pell Street at the edge of Chinatown. Mike Salter ordered Izzy to write a song.

This was one of the most fortuitous commands in American history. Izzy Baline turned out a cornball jingle named Marie from Sunny Italy. The royalties on it were 33 cents. But Izzy was in business. Two years later he changed his name to Irving Berlin.

Had Smash Hit In 1911

In 1911, he wrote Alexander's Ragtime Band, a smash international hit — he was off and running and hasn't been headed since in a career of confecting around 1,200 popular songs. More than 850 of these have been published and about 25 or 30 have been superduper all-time hits.

Now, in this autumn of his golden anniversary year, record albums are being issued saluting him, his work, and his success. Speaking of success, White Christmas alone has sold more than 24-million records.

We might as well salute him for what he is—America's minstrel to the world.

It's a Fact—

Some of the speedier whales can swim circles around a ship traveling at 30 knots.

The United States was the first nation of the western hemisphere to become a republic.

The first country to recognize the United States as a new nation was Morocco. This was back in 1787.

Eagles Auxiliary Plans Activities

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Monessen Eagles Aerie met last night in the home on Schoonmaker Ave. with Mrs. Betty Gedeon, president, in charge. Donations were voted to various projects, and plans were made for the annual Christmas party.

Chaplain Minnie Crum led the pledge and prayer. Conductor Ann Kantsi was in charge of roll call of officers.

Mrs. Christina Uhal was initiated as a new member.

A thank you note was received from the American Cancer Society for the group's work in its behalf. A contribution was voted to the Mentally Retarded Children's Fund.

The next card party to be sponsored by the group was set for Monday, Nov. 25. All proceed will go to the muscular dystrophy drive. Mrs. Dorothy Kessler will be chairman assisted by Anna Escareno, Mary Rubachko, Mildred Kacmar, Ida Amprim, Carol Milika, Settina Provensano, Lorraine Maiolini, Margaret Griggs, Alma Cain and Stephanie Buchar.

Holiday Party

A Christmas party was planned for Dec. 14 at Twin Coaches. Gifts will be exchanged.

The group was notified of the death of a state officer, Mrs. Dorothy Mays, a trustee. A minute of silent prayer was offered in her memory. Chaplain Minnie Crum offered prayer.

Thanksgiving appointments were used in decorating the tables where refreshments were served. Helen Perozzi was social chairman assisted by Lenora Palenti, Lois Povich, Irene Pavitis, Elizabeth Pezek and Alice Ratica.

Special prizes were won by Sophie Luoma and Margaret Allison. Winning pinochle prizes were Mrs. Ann Bubola and Mary Timcoe; five hundred, Josephine Major and Dorothy Wendel.

Pavlikowski Baby Baptized At St. Leonard

Baptized on Sunday, Nov. 10, at St. Leonard Church with the Rev. J. L. Conway officiating was Kim Rene Pavlikowski. She is the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Pavlikowski of Parkway.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Cantini served as godparents for the baby.

Friends and relatives were entertained later in the day at the home of the maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Cheroki of Forrest St.

The baby was presented with many gifts.

Junior League Begins Work On Gift Project

The Junior Classical League of Monessen High School of which Mary D. Krupa is president has started plans for the holiday program which it sponsors.

Each year these students take gifts to the children who are confined to Children's Hospital, Pittsburgh. The one difference in the gifts provided by this group is that every one must be hand made by the students.

To assist in earning funds for this project the group will sponsor a bake sale tomorrow at Monessen Plumbing and Electric.

St. John Altar Guild Is Presented Service Scroll

The Ladies Altar Guild of St. John the Divine Russian Orthodox Church was presented with a scroll, a special award from the Metropolitan Council, for outstanding service to the church. It will be framed and hung in the church hall.

The president, Mrs. Ann Yocos, who had received the award, presented it to the group at a meeting held on Tuesday evening in the church hall. The Very Rev. John Govrusik, church pastor, offered the opening prayer.

Routine reports were presented by Margaret Gombos, secretary, Mary Kowell and Henrietta Patrick. A report of the past president's dinner, Halloween party, and card party series was given by Mrs. Yocos.

A pre-Thanksgiving bake sale was planned for Wednesday, Nov. 27, with Dorothy Ellin and Barbara Koawl in charge.

Plans were made to purchase linens for the church before the Christmas holidays.

Observe Birthdays

Hankerchiefs were presented to members observing birthdays this month, Margaret Gombos, Anna Bilo, Florence Formato, Mary Ezerski, Anna Matola, Anna Rudovsky and Pearl Miralles

Announcement was made of a card party to be held at the Russian Hall on Sunday night by the church bazaar committee. Another one is planned for Sunday, Nov. 24, under the sponsorship of Ladies Lodge 4 of the Uroba. These two parties will conclude the parties before the Advent season.

Kits were made up containing Christmas cards and wrappings, shampoo, religious items, 1958 calendars showing church holy days and candy in tins. Members are to sell these among members of the parish and friends.

Refreshments were served by the luncheon committee headed by Elizabeth Rusnak and Mary Saladiak. They were assisted by Anna Rudovsky, Anna M. Rubachko, Sophia Schuresko, Ann Trembulek, Pauline Sypolt, Anna Skurkay, Anna Petro, Dorothy Shevcik and Ella Talpas.

Legion Ladies Past Presidents Are Entertained

The Past President's parley of the Ladies Auxiliary to Thomas McKee Post 28 of the American Legion met last night at the home of Mrs. Ann Chesmar.

There was a business session and social hour with prizes being awarded to Mildred Rapsack, Janet Pustinger, Marteas Maher, Gertrude Searles, Helen Jadyk, Martha Dale.

Plans were made for a Christmas dinner party at the Park Casino on Dec. 12. There will be a dollar gift exchange.

Luncheon was served by the hostess.

The four o'clock flower received its name because of the approximate time of the opening of the flowers.

Louis Redays Mark Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Reday, 1316 Graham Ave., are observing the silver anniversary of their marriage today, Nov. 15.

This morning the family attended a special anniversary mass at the Most Holy Name of Jesus Church with the Rev. Joseph Gajdosik, pastor, as celebrant.

A weekend of "open house" is planned for relatives and friends tomorrow and Sunday to continue the silver celebration. The party will be serving a double purpose, and will also be a housewarming since the family moved into their new home only two weeks ago.

Before her marriage Mrs. Reday was Stella Bialous. The couple exchanged nuptial vows on Nov. 15, 1932 in St. Hyacinth Church, Monessen. The couple have four children: Louis Jr. in Harrisburg; and Irene, Edward and Stella Ann, all at home.

Reday operates Reday's Dairy Bar. He and his wife are inviting their many friends and relatives to visit them during their 25 year celebration.

Guardian Angel Junior Troop Holds Meeting

The November meeting of the Guardian Angel Troop of the Junior Catholic Daughters of America was held at the home of Antoinette Deleddo on Schoonmaker Ave.

Kathy Swade, president, was in charge, and the counselor, Mrs. Margaret Wilkins, was present. Diane DeRocco, treasurer, gave the financial report. Vera Victoria reported on the recent bake sale held by the group.

Plans were made for a Christmas party on Dec. 29 at Jean Delare's home. Eileen Mullen will be entertainment chairmen. On Dec. 15 there will be an afternoon meeting at the home of Dolores Lenio, Marguerite St., to complete party plans.

Final arrangements are being made to visit a Pittsburgh orphanage.

Other reports were given to complete the honor program by Diane DeRocco, Lia Danielle and Dolores Cardelli.

Present were Kathy Swade, Elizabeth Farnetti, Dolores Wilkins, Lia Danielle, Diane DeRocco, Antoinette Deleddo, Dolly Cardelli, Helen Hreno, Mary Krupa, Eileen Mullen, Vera Victoria, Dolores Lenic and Gloria Vagnoni.

Girl Scouts of Troop 4 Plan Craft Project

Girl Scout Troop 4 met at the Civic Center Wednesday under the direction of the leader, Mrs. Helen Kreger.

Karen Kreger, president, was in charge and there were routine reports.

Carol Ann Macko observed her birthday anniversary. Van Askounes showed pictures taken when the troop made a trip to Pittsburgh.

It was decided to make ribbon dolls as the next craft project, and the girls were instructed to bring their material to the next meeting.

Games were played, and following the meeting there was a fashion show. Some of the girls demonstrated the proper attire to be worn on a hike, while others modeled clothing least desirable for such an outing.

Belle Vernon Girl Wed to Charleroi Man

Harriet Whitelaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitelaw of 640 Speer St., Belle Vernon, became the bride of Stephen Labosh on Monday, Nov. 11. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Labosh of Maple Ave. in Charleroi.

The couple exchanged their nuptial vows in the Presbyterian Church of Winchester with the Rev. G. Raymond Womeldorf, church pastor, officiating.

The bride chose to wear a navy blue suit with white accessories for her wedding attire.

There were no attendants.

The couple is now living at the Labosh home in Charleroi.

The bride was graduated from Vernon High School and the bridegroom from Charleroi. She is presently employed at the Craven Furniture Co. in Charleroi and he in the Grant-Bliss Hardware, Charleroi.

ON THE BALL

By CLAIR BROWN

Clairton Has Inside Track in AA

Current figures on the WPIAL point race going into tonight's important games involving Class AA contenders show Wilkinsburg first with 127 points but a possibility of 133 points (maximum), New Kensington second with 122.5 but can get no higher, Uniontown third with 122 but can go up to 131 and Clairton (the team which can easily cop it all) fourth with 122 points but a possibility of 135 . . . Wilkinsburg's season is over but its five strongest victims could get the Holy City lads their 133 . . . New Kensington will almost automatically bow out after this week as a total of 122 can hardly win it . . . Uniontown still has a chance with its possibility of 133 . . . Clairton naturally stands the best chance with tonight's Duquesne game giving the Bears a 135 total if they can top the Little Dukes, and 128 even if they don't win.

New Kensington School Director Dr. C. G. Vonderheid really got himself into hot water with that charge at a meeting this week that football should be abolished at New Kensington High School . . . Protests flooded the school officials the day after the meeting and the good doctor had to retract some of his statements about football spurring "hoodlumism," claiming the charges came in the heat of an argument and were not meant to be taken verbatum . . . He undoubtedly hopes the statement is completely forgotten by next election time . . . By the way, speaking of football, the voice you heard at the Duquesne-Monessen game here Friday night on the PA system belonged to former Donora High and Pitt star Gabe Gembarosky, subbing for Emil Beck, who was ill.

Rangerette Group Considered Here

Rostraver Junior High School was the only local district Junior High grid team receiving a plaque for an unbeaten season at the annual Junior WPIAL Banquet this week in Pittsburgh . . . Monessen, according to MHS Principal Henry Furio, speaking for Junior High Principal Alfred Hazelbaker who was out of his office at the time, was not considered due to playing only three games, despite winning them all . . . That's a tough decision to make against the locals since they (according to season records of Monessen and Donora the two teams the locals couldn't play due to flu conditions) could probably have won both those games and the Romascomen did play three-fifths of the schedule . . . Coach Al Tomasco, Furio, Hazelbaker, Faculty Manager Armand Mori, Junior High cage mentor Frederic Feldman, Monessen Athletic Association secretary Tom Preston and Junior High Custodian Herman Keith attended the fete.

The tourney will be held at Springfield, Ill., and it will be a double-elimination tournament next August . . . Full expenses will be paid for the competing teams . . . Formation of the new PONY set-up to be known as PONY Graduate Baseball, is believed to spell the death-knoll for Prep League ball, with headquarters in Munhall . . . Veteran Prep League interests say the program will fold . . . It was originally believed Prep and PONY League would work hand in hand following several conferences between Lew Hays, PONY head, and Jim Wardlaw, Prep director.

No WPIAL Plaque for Local Juniors

Interest in the majorette corps at Monessen High School is so great that local school director Nick Cullen suggested at the latest school board meeting that a group of "Rangerettes" be formed here on the order of the Rostraver group or the Redstone idea of a group of girls carrying signal banners supplementing the regular majorettes . . .The matter will be discussed further by Principal Henry Furio and band director Julius D'Alfonso . . . The band will be present in uniforms at the first home basketball game on November 29. . . . That will make it quite a night considering the triple-header (Junior High, Jayvee and Varsity games) on tap.

Today's Sports Parade—

'The McAuliffe' Legend Of Early Prize Ring

By OSCAR FRALEY

NEW YORK (UP)— One of the legends of the prize ring was a dapper, banty rooster of a man named Jack McAuliffe who, back in the Gay 90's, ruled the lightweights for 12 years and retired without ever losing a fight.

He was full of the wit and temper and generosity of the Irish. As, those from the old sod will tell you, it should be with a man from Cork.

Thus there came a day when he walked into his brother's Brooklyn saloon, waved one champagne-gloved hand to the assemblage and, rapping on the bar with his malacca cane, loftily ordered his brother to "set 'em up for the house."

Smiling gaily, he patted his little nephew, Jack, on the shoulder and again ordered his brother to "set 'em up for the house!"

"No, Jack," said the brother who was footing the bill, "why don't you let some of the other boys buy once in a while?"

The former lightweight king turned white. Glaring at his brother, he seized his malacca cane off the bar and pointed to the glittering gold letter's on the saloon window which proclaimed "McAuliffe's."

He Was The McAuliffe

"And whose name are you using on this place?" Jack angrily demanded of his amazed brother.

That was "The McAuliffe."

Yet today there is still another placed high in the sports world, the little nephew who was his namesake.

"The McAuliffe" of today at 66 is a dapper, banty rooster of a man, too, filled with the wit and generosity of the Irish. He also had his share of physical talent, winning a place on the 1912 Olympic swimming team. Jack didn't compete because, at that time, he too lacked the folding.

Going nowhere as a certified public accountant, he did something about it.

"A few friends put up some money," he recalls. "I hocked an insurance policy and in 1916 I founded the Triangle Conduit and Cable Co."

It was "a financial romance" which today is a $100,000,000 a year business.

But "The McAuliffe," like his famous uncle, never could get very far away from sports.

Early Yankees' Partner

He associated himself with Col. Cap Houston when they bought into the New York Yankees in 1916. And when Houston left, after a series of disagreements with Jake Ruppert, Jack stepped out of baseball, too.

Since then, golf, and more recently, horse racing, have been his outlets.

Jack puts on the National Mixed Foursome Invitational, an alternate shot event which will attract 65 teams to Tequesta, Fla., Feb. 11-14. He also is the founder of the Triangle Round Robin for the women pros, which will be held in the Boston area in mid-June with all proceeds to charity.

"The McAuliffe" has 14 head of horses in training and one of them is a $40,000 yearling named McClelland with which Jack is hoping to take a shot at the 1959 Kentucky Derby.

Personally, I wouldn't bet right now that he won't win it, either. As they say in the fight mob, the McAuliffe's haven't had a loser yet.

Greyhounds Visit Donora Tonight

Valley Rivals in 43rd Meeting of Traditional Series

Monessen and Donora High Schools send their grid teams into battle against each other for the 43rd time tonight at Donora's Legion Field.

Going into tonight's clash the locals boast a five game edge over the Dragons in the all-time series with 22 victories to 16 for the Dragons with five games ending in ties.

In the private series between Coach Armand Niccolai of the locals and the veteran Donora mentor Jimmy Russell, now in his 28th year of coaching at the down-river school, Niccolai holds a wide lead of seven wins to three and a tie since 1947.

Donora is paced this season by Angie Dabiero, the speedy halfback who just missed winning the Big Six Conference title last season in the final game of the season when Monessen's Maurice Mathieu won the coveted award, and Tom Urbanik, burly junior fullback.

Urbanik is currently tied for third place in the conference scoring race with Monessen's Ken Bronson.

Mostly Senior Team

The Russellmen boast an almost all-senior team with exceptions of Urbanik and tackle Nick Kuzemka, nephew of Monessen assistant coach Andy Kuzemka.

A good blocking and running back Tom Watson helps Urbanik and Dabiero keep the defense tight so that quarterback Davey Russell, who can throw with the best, hit on his passes to Dabiero, Urbanik, or ends Hal Rice, Butler Roddy and Bing Alcott.

The Dragons after a slow start which saw them lose to North Catholic, Greensburg and Charleroi, Redstone, Har-Brack, Brownsville, Monongahela, and Washington.

Other starters tonight for the Dragons in addition to those mentioned above will be center Wally Fronzaglio, co - captain; Frank Tokay, and Larry Staffen at the other guard and tackle opposite Kuzemka and Neil Clark.

The Hound starters will be George Guibourdanche and Dennis O'Toole at ends, Ed Allen and Bobo Aldrich at tackles, Bob Pauline and Terry Throop at guards, Mike Churan at center with Dan Barton at quarterback, Bronson or Jimmy Lewitsky and Joe Karbowsky at halves and at fullback Carl Rattay, in the backfield.

Rainstorm Cuts Bellmar Tilt 'In Half'; N. Union Ahead, 7-0

Coach Bap Manzini's Bellmar High School gridders figured to hold their own against North Union last night but didn't reckon with another foe — the weather, and as a result dropped a 7-0 decision in a game which lasted less than 20 minutes at Bellmar Stadium.

The four-minute warning before the first half hadn't yet been given when a torrential-type rainstorm hit the Belle Vernon area, making visibility at the stadium almost zero. The officials conferred with the coaches and by mutual agreement called it a half, about four minutes early.

While the teams were in the dressing rooms for the half-time intermission, the flood lights on the field began going out, one by one, due to the ice-cold rain hitting the red-hot lights.

Both teams, according to Manzini, were checked carefully during the half-time rest and found to be completely drenched. The possibility of serious illness plus the lights going out convinced the coaches the game should be called.

First Half-Game

"I've lost games before," said Manzini, "but this is the first time I ever lost half a game."

As for the game itself, North Union was dominating the play the first half with five-first downs to one, threatening twice before but stopped before a break produced the only touchdown.

The Rams had driven to the Bellmar 20 late in the first period but the 'Cane defenders held off the charge.

Early in the second quarter, North Union drove to the seven and again Bellmar held. With the assistance of a 15-yard penalty. Two North Union passes then failed and the 'Canes took over on the 11.

Two plays later a pitchout got away from the Hurricane backs and the Rams' big end Joe Opalko scooped up the loose ball, started to run, dropped the pigskin at the 11 where guard teammate Phil Horton picked it up at and carried over for the score. Fullback Rich Yauger plunged for the extra point.

The game closed out the season for both teams, the unfortunate incident, which cleared the stands in nothing flat, gave the 'Canes a 4-5 season mark, North Union a 6-2 record.

Top Contenders Face Rugged Foes In AA Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Clairton meets Duquesne and New Kensington hosts Hempfield Twp. tonight in top WPIAL Class AA games.

Clairton will go after its 10th consecutive victory against a strong home team, while New Kensington pins its hopes for championship consideration on defeating the improved Hempfield squad.

Wilkinsburg, another contender, completed its schedule last week Uniontown, also a contender, plays Redstone next week in a game that had been postponed due to the flu.

Top Class B games include Sewickley Twp. hosting West Bethlehem and Montour at home against Neville.

Contender Sewickley is rated one of the strongest teams in its class. Montour will be fighting to keep its season record unblemished.

Other top WPIAL games, not involving contenders but matching traditional rivals, include Ambridge at Aliquippa, Monessen at Donora, Greensburg at Jeannette, Sharon at Farrell, Latrobe hosting Mt. Pleasant Hurst. Wilmerding at Turtle Creek, Springdale at Arnold and Scott Twp. at Carnegie.

Fullmer Favored To Top Rivers On TV Tonight

NEW YORK (UP) — Ex-champion Gene Fullmer is favored at 17-5 to beat Neal Rivers tonight and keep his standing as alternate challenger for the middleweight crown.

The 10-rounder at Madison Square Garden between Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, and Rivers, the California state champion, will be televised and broadcast nationally by NBC at 10 p.m. (e.s.t.).

Despite the betting odds, mauler Gene will be taking a genuine gamble in this "all-to-lose" fight with Los Angeles Neal, an unrated contender but a dangerous sharpshooter.

Fullmer will be risking his chance for a title shot in case Sugar Ray Robinson retires and foregoes an attempt to recapture the 160-pound crown from Carmen Basilio.

Neal's 37-5-2 record includes 21 knockouts. He was stopped twice, by Sal Flores (5) and Milo Savage (1) — both in 1954.

Fullmer's 42-4-0 career includes 20 knockouts. He failed to last the distance only against Robinson.

Westinghouse In Ninth Title Bid

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Westinghouse High will seek its ninth city championship under the tutelage of coach Pete Dimperio in a game with Fifth Avenue at South Stadium tonight.

The highly successful Dimperio, one of the few remaining advocates of the single wing, has compiled a record of 64 victories and only four losses in 12 years as mentor of the team. The squad was undefeated this season.

Fifth Avenue, after losing three pre-season games, rolled to five consecutive victories over city competition.

Gira, Levy Paces Blast Furnace Loop

J. Gira and J. Levy divided Blast Furnace League honors yesterday as Levy bowled the three-game top mark of 473 and J. Gira the top single mark of 186.

Steam Plant Electrical, Blow Room posted match victories.

Other high scorers were J. Mullens, G. Fabian, C. Ellen and T. Apodiakis.

Standings — Cast House, 22-11, Electrical, 21-12, Mechanical, 15-18, Steam Plant 15-18, Pig Machine 14-19 and Blow Room 12-21.

State-Holy Cross Game on Radio

PITTSBURGH, Pa. Nov. 13 — The Penn State-Holy Cross football game will be broadcast by KDKA Radio tomorrow, L. B. Rawlins, general manager of the station, has announced.

The broadcast will get underway at 1.25 p. m. and will provide a top gridiron attraction for district listeners on a day when Pitt is idle. The Panthers' full schedule is carried on KDKA Radio.

Penn State will take a 5-2 record to Worcester, Mass., for the meeting with Holy Cross which has a 4-2-1 card. In the competition for the Lambert Trophy, symbol of the Eastern Collegiate championship, State ranks third; Holy Cross, which upset Syracuse last week, ninth.

Swansick Sets Mark In BM Millwrights

Geiselharts won two games from the Bethems, Furios took two from McVickers and Aiellos tripped the Brennimans twice in Blooming Mill Millwrights League bowling last night.

Steve Swansich set a new three game record for the season, rolling a 609 series on scores of 193-207-209.

Other leading scorers were Ray Echart, 210-504; Andy Dyky, 200-497; and Andy Valko, 236-488.

Standings show Geiselharts, 21-15; McVickers, 20-16; Brennimans 19-17; Bethems 17-19; Furios 17-19; Furios 17-19; Aiellos 14-22.

McShane's, Frabels Cop OH Riggers Wins

McShane blanked the van Shuras and Frabels won a pair from the McVickers in Open Hearth Riggers Bowling League action last night.

Scoring leaders were Larry Evancho, 237-578; Steve Beck, 177-515; J. Fuoco, 175-451; Sawich, 182-342; and C. Kline, 155-442.

Waynesburg Battles Central State Tomorrow

Waynesburg College will wind up its 1957 grid season tomorrow afternoon when they travel to Wilberforce, Ohio, to tangle with the Marauders of Central State College.

Coach John Popovich's Jackets will be trying to topple Central to finish with a winning season. As of now, the Jackets are 3-2-1, a great improvement over last year when they won only one game. The Marauders are 2-4-1.

It will be the Jackets' second invasion of the Buckeye State this year. An earlier Ohio trip was successful, when they downed Findlay College 13 to 6. A clue to the outcome of Saturday's game may be found in this fact, as Central State downed Findlay by a better mark.

In keeping with an old tradition, the Jacket graduating seniors ran their "last lap" around the practice field Thursday afternoon, marking the last time they will drill for a Waynesburg College team.

Among the seniors this year are Bob Mazie, an end; Gene Butalla and Mike Panteley, guards, and center John George.

Saturday's lineup will include Bob Mazie and Ed Galaski, of Monessen, at ends; Dick Bechtold and Ron Sams at tackle; Gene Butalla and Mike Panteley at guard; John George at center; Art Walker at the quarterback spot, and Ron Anderson, Jim Duffy and Barry Getto in the backfield.

Waynesburg's only losses were in close games with Westminster and West Virginia Tech.

To Expand Stadium

MADISON, Wis. (UP)—The C and C Construction Co., of Ft. Wayne, Ind., will begin work Sunday adding 10,000 seats to the University of Wisconsin football stadium. The capacity of the stadium will be 63,000 when work is completed on Aug. 1, 1958.

APERL Leaders Win Playoff Spot

No. 5 Building was assured of a playoff spot in the Allenport Plant Employees Recreation League.

No. 5 wrapped up the playoff berth by finishing first in the final first round standings with a 26-7 record. The rest of the league trailed with these records: Electric, 23-10; General Office, 21-12; Pipe Shope, 20-13; Strip Office, 20-13; O.W.T. 19-14; Lab. 17-16; Cold Draw 15-18; Auto Fin., 14-19; Shear Line, 13-20; Sheet Hot Mill, 7-26; and Police 3-30.

In windup matches this week. Electric blanked Pipe Shop, Cold Draw whitewashed Police, Strip Office took three from Sheet Hot Mill, General Office won a pair from Auto Finish, Lab earned two from Shear Line and O.W.T. won a brace from No. 5 Building.

The top single game was rolled by L. Guder, Cold Draw, who spilled 212 pins. The high three game total was 541 turned in C. Calamari.

Martinez Favored

HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (UP)—Vince Martinez, 27-year-old welterweight contender from Paterson, N.J., has been established a 14-5 favorite over Ramon Tiscareno of Juarez, Mexico, in their 10-round bout Saturday night in Hollywood Legion Stadium.

Local MV Ladies At Bentleyville

Despite bowling the top second best single game and three-game total, Monessen's Villa Nova entry in the Mon Valley Ladies League dropped a 2-1 decision to Donora this week and ended up in sixth place.

The single game team match showed a 783, the three-game total a 2216, to trail the league-leading Uniontowners.

Pauline Burdock also claimed a single game individual honors with a 220 and second place laurels for three games with a 539.

Other Top scorers were Dolores Koch of Charleroi New Moon, Lola Dzygos of Charleroi Grand, Eve Saltalo of Connellsville, Nan Beck of Scottdale, Nell Marshalek of Belle Vernon, Dot Fazzoni of Bentleyville, Ann Perrotta of Donora and Mary Palm of Villa Nova.

Tonight the local entry travels to Bentleyville for a 9:30 o'clock match.

Junior High Cage Team Opens Drills

Monessen Junior High Cage Coach Frederic Feldman expects to greet between 65 and 75 junior high cage candidates at the Monessen gym tonight.

Under Junior WPIAL rules tonight is the first night of drills permitted for member teams.

Practice has been set for 6 o'clock.

Feldman, who has turned out some fine teams here will be hoping to improve on the 4-6 league mark last season in a rebuilding year.

Li'l Leaguer

"They called our football game off, Pop. What'll we do now?"

Hank Aaron Named National Circuit's 'Most Valuable'

NEW YORK (UP) — Hank Aaron's newly-won honor as the most valuable player in the National League today placed the Milwaukee Brave slugger in a position to bid for a $45,000 contract in 1958.

That salary, compared to the $28,500 he received this year, probably would make him the league's highest-salaried player with the exception of $80,000-a-year Stan Musial, whom he beat out by a scant nine points in the annual balloting by the Baseball Writers Association of America. Musial was bidding for a record fourth MVP award.

Receiving a big leaguer's most coveted award capped a season in which the 23-year-old Aaron hit .322 and led the N.L. with 132 runs batted in and 44 homers, including the one that clinched the Braves' first pennant. Aaron is the fourth straight member of his race to win the N.L. award and the seventh since Jackie Robinson broke the color line in 1947.

"I'm grateful to (manager) Fred Haney and my teammates for their assistance," said Aaron in Chicago. "I want to thank all the writers who voted me the honor and only hope I can keep playing for many years."

In Mobile, Ala., Hank's mother, Mrs. Estella Aaron, revealed that Aaron believed that Braves' second-baseman Red Schoendienst would get the award and added, "I figure the man (general manager John Quinn of the Braves) ought to give Hank what he asks for next year." Hank tried for $35,000 before settling for $6,500 less last year.

A sleepy-eyed, lithe Negro from Mobile, Aaron has been tabbed as a potential all-time great since he entered the league in 1954. He hit .280 that season, rose to .314 in 1955 and won the batting championship with a .328 mark in 1956.

Willie Mays Is Given OK to Purchase Home

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—Willie Mays, Negro star of the San Francisco Giants, is buying a home in a fashionable white neighborhood because the owner reversed his decision.

Mays was first turned down in his bid to buy a three-bedroom brick and redwood dwelling with an ocean view at 175 Miraloma Drive in the Sherwood Forest neighborhood because of his race.

Walter A. Gnesdiloff, who built the house and had it up for sale at $37,500, said he had turned down the sale because of pressure from his neighbors. Later, however, Gnesdiloff called Mays and told him he was accepting his asking price bid for the home near exclusive St. Francis Wood.

After news of the rebuff got out, Gnesdiloff received calls from persons both for and against the sale.

Included in those who were outraged were Mayor George Christopher and supervisor Francis McCarthy, the two men most responsible for persuading the Giants to move from New York to San Francisco.

Mays said that he will return to New York in a day or so to arrange for selling the five-story home and apartment house they own there. He said he will probably move into the house on Miraloma Drive in two or three months and then live there permanently.

Pennsylvanians Lifting Arizona To Grid Heights

TEMPE, Ariz. (UP)—Pennsylvania talent was given significant credit today for lifting Arizona State College to the position of best college football team this week in the West.

Coach Dan Devine has depended heavily on these Pennsylvanians: left halfback Bobby Mulgado, McKeesport; end Billy Spanko of Johnstown; guard Ken Kerr of Carnegie; center Dave Fonner, Harrisburg and fullback Joe Belland of Clairton.

Mulgado made the United Press All-Pacific Coast second team last year and is now under consideration for All-America votes. He stands fifth in the nation in scoring with 57 points. He runs, passes, catches passes, kicks off, runs back punts and is a star on defense.

Belland, who gets the vital short yards and the touchdowns when the Sun Devils go deep into enemy territory, is sixth in the nation with 54 points.

Spanko has been a stalwart on both offense and defense and is described as a pass catching whiz.

Midwest Boasts Of Top-Notch AA Candidates

CHICAGO (UP)— Only a select few of these finally will make the 1957 All-America team, but the Midwest can furnish a star-studded lineup that is as good — if not better — than any other section of the country.

Two of the Big Ten stars, tackle Alex Karras of Iowa and Michigan State's halfback, Walt Kowalczyk, seemed certain to win berths on most of the numerous all-star teams

Kowalczyk has been great despite "defenses stacked against him," coach Duffy Daugherty says.

Two tackles could split votes in opposition to Karras, his teammate, Dick Klein, and Purdue's junior giant, Nick Mumley.

Three other halfbacks, Jim Pace of Michigan, Bob Mitchell of Illinois, and Don Clark of Ohio State, should be mentioned.

Another Iowa standout was end Jim Gibbons, a senior who has hauled in 27 passes for 484 yards and four touchdowns to rank fifth nationally. Ohio State's Leo Brown is another good end along with Dave Kaiser of Michigan State.

Two centers rank at the top of the Midwest heap, Michigan State's Dan Currie and Purdue's Neil Habig.

Notre Dame merits a player among the All-American candidates, junior guard Al Ecuyer. Ecuyer, 195 pounds, was the only player who drew individual praise from coach Terry Brennan after the Michigan State game, but he has won praise after every contest.

In the quarterback spot, the Midwest can offer three possibilities, Michigan's Jim van Pelt, Iowa's Randy Duncan, and Michigan State's Jim Ninowski.

Ken Boyer Seen As Key to Cards' Pennant Hopes

ST. LOUIS (UP)— Ken Boyer, the St. Louis Cardinals center fielder and-or third baseman, could be the key man in a Redbird drive to a 1958 National League pennant.

But the husky and handsome right-handed slugger remains a question-marked baseball asset.

In his rookie year of 1955 he hit 18 home runs, batted an unimpressive .264 and drove in 62 runs. In the season just ended he was right back where he started, coming remarkably close to his beginner's debut with 19 homers, a .265 average and 62 runs batted in.

In between, of course, he made a banner Boyer year of 1956 with 26 round-trippers, a .306 average and 98 rbi's.

Bing Devine, the Cards' new general manager, has referred to Ken as "having the greatest potential" of any man on the team

And the controversial 26-year-old was called "the reluctant dragon" by departing G-M Frank Lane. Lane was reported ready to put Boyer on the trading block and Devine has not ruled out the possibility.

But the Cardinals' front office has an uneasy suspicion that Ken might realize his potential, keep his overdue date with baseball greatness, in another uniform.

Under-rated Cager Breaks NBA Mark

By UNITED PRESS

Dolph Schayes, one of the underrated stars of the National Basketball Association, broke George Mikan's total-points record Thursday night as he scored 29 points for a nine-year total of 10,171 in leading Syracuse to a 97-84 victory over the Philadelphia Warriors.

Schayes hasn't been the spectacular player that Mikan was, and his Syracuse team didn't terrorize the league as did the Minneapolis Lakers of Mikan's heyday, so six-foot-eight-inch Dolph didn't get the headlines that Mikan did.

But he got the points.

Rookie Woody Sauldsberry led Philadelphia with 21 points. It was the only NBA game Thursday night.

Tonight St. Louis is at Syracuse, New York at Cincinnati and Minneapolis at Detroit.

Approve Russo Fight

NEW YORK (UP)— The New York State Athletic Commission has approved a widely televised 10-round welterweight bout next Monday night between Danny Russo of Brooklyn and Eddie Russo of New York at St. Nicholas Arena.

Tech Entertains Westminster in Season Finale

By UNITED PRESS

Carnegie Tech meets Westminster at Forbes Field Saturday in the final game for both teams this season.

Tartan coach Eddie Baker made two changes in his regular lineup to assure seniors a starting berth in the "swan-song" game. Gary Jones was replaced by Jesse Quatse at fullback and Jerry Stalnaker took over at guard for Cary Yarbrough.

Senior ends Larry Cassett and Ken Ficery and quarterback John Tucci will start as usual, Baker said.

Other games involving Western Pennsylvania teams Saturday, all of them season final games, include:

Bethany at John Carroll; Lycoming at Geneva; Hiram at Grove City; Indiana State Teachers and Clarion at a neutral field; Lock Haven and Mansfield at a neutral field; West Liberty at Slippery Rock; Thiel at Allegheny; Washington and Jefferson at Rochester; Central State at Waynesburg.

Juniata, which plays its final game next week against Ursinus, travels to Albright this Saturday.

California State Teachers plays West Chester at a neutral field tonight.

Pitt is idle this week end.

Bowl Lineups Set-Barring Upsets In College Ranks

By UNITED PRESS

If long-range odds hold up, New Year's Day will find Ohio State vs. Oregon in the Rose Bowl, Oklahoma vs. Duke in the Orange Bowl, Texas A & M vs. Army or Navy in the Cotton Bowl and any combination of teams from south of the Mason-Dixon line in the Sugar and Gator Bowls.

Oklahoma, the only team already assured of a bowl trip, steps outside the Big Eight Saturday and is favored by 18 points over Notre Dame in a game to be televised nationally (by NBC). That three-touchdown spread surprised football observers because Oklahoma, despite 47 straight wins, has gone through anxious moments this season. On top of that, it's an open secret that Notre Dame has been pointing all year for the Sooners.

Iowa Over OSU

Iowa is a one-point favorite over Ohio State, Oregon seven over Southern Cal., Duke seven over Clemson, Texas A & M seven over Rice and Tennessee seven over Mississippi.

While the Ohio State-Iowa battle will crown the Big Ten champion, Iowa is barred from the Rose Bowl because it made the trip last New Year's Day. That means Ohio State can make the run for the roses with a victory over Iowa or Michigan, its opponent next week. Similarly, Oregon needs only one victory in its remaining games with Southern Cal or Oregon State for its first Rose Bowl appearance since 1920.

Duke needs only a win over Clemson or next Saturday's foe, North Carolina.

Texas A & M, rated No. 1 by the United Press Board of Coaches can sew up the host role in the Cotton Bowl by beating Rice. The Cotton Bowl Committee is believed to be leaning toward the winner of the Nov. 30 Army-Navy classic for the visiting team.

Eye Vols and Ole Miss

If the service academies nix a Cotton Bowl appearance, the Tennessee-Mississippi game probably will produce one team for the Cotton Bowl and one for the Sugar.

The Gator Bowl announced during the week that it is eyeing nine teams — Texas A & M, Texas Christian, Texas, Arkansas, Tennessee, Mississippi, Mississippi State, Vanderbilt and Miami of Florida.

Miami is a seven-point choice over Maryland in the only major game Friday night.

Auburn and North Carolina State, normally considered among bowl candidates, must stay home because of NCAA penalties. Auburn ranks with Texas A & M and Oklahoma as the only major teams still unbeaten and untied.

Mr. Universe Wins

TEHERAN, Iran (UP) — The Russians may have run off with the team title but Tommy Kono of Sacramento, Calif., won the most individual gold medals in the world weight-lifting championships. Kono, who won the middleweight title Monday, was named "Mr. Universe" Wednesday.

Engle Pins Hopes for Crusader Win on Improved Air Defense

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) —Penn State coach Rip Engle pinned his hopes for a victory over Holy Cross Saturday on week-long efforts to improve the Lions' pass defense.

Engle said the aerial defense had been anything but air tight, which it may have to be to keep the Crusaders' Tom Greene under control.

Greene leads the nation in total offense with 1,150 yards rushing and is No. 8 passer with 64 completions in 126 attempts for 1,074 yards and 10 touchdowns.

"We've worked on pass defense just as long and just as hard as ever," Engle said, "but teams still have passed on us."

The lack of an effective pass defense was apparent in Penn State's losses to Army and Vanderbilt.

Engle put his team through a practice session in the rain Thursday to prepare them for the possibility of wet weather Saturday.

Worsley to Farm

NEW YORK (UP) — Lorne (Gump) Worsley, erstwhile regular goalie of the New York Rangers, has been sent to Providence where he will tend goal tonight when the Reds play Buffalo. Worsley, who also will play goal for Providence on Sunday, has been replaced in the Ranger nets by rookie Marcel Paille.

Coach on Mend

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (UP)— Hank Stram, offensive backfield coach of the Notre Dame football team, was reported in good condition today at St. Joseph's Hospital. Stram underwent an operation Wednesday for appendicitis.

Where Are They Now?

By United Press

AUREL JOLIAT

An ace of old-time hockey, Aurel Joliat was a linemate with immortal Howie Morenz of the Montreal Canadiens. Though only a 135-pounder, Joliat wound up his career with the same total of goals as Morenz — 270 — until recent seasons a mark thought to be unreachable. He played 11 seasons until 1938.

Whatever happened to Aurel Joliat? Today he is living quietly in Ottawa, Canada, where he is employed as a railway ticket agent.

Ex-Donora Back Gains 1,000 Yards

DETROIT (UP) — Detroit University right halfback Billy Russell of Donora, Pa., has gained more than 1,000 yards rushing this season, a feat accomplished by only six other Detroit players in 12 years.

Another Donora, boy, senior Dick White, has started all the Detroit games this season at left tackle.

Detroit is listed as a possible selection to play in the Sun Bowl at El Paso, Tex., or the Cigar Bowl at Tampa, Fla.

Steeler Aides Scouting Colleges For Top-Flight 'Running' Backs

PITTSBURGH (UP)—Pittsburgh Steeler aides were scouting college teams throughout the country today in preparation for the annual college draft.

Coach Buddy Parker sent his assistants far and wide with instructions to look for a top running back. Parker has said the Steeler running offense is the poorest he has seen in a pro team.

Backfield coach Harry Gilmer arrived at Baton Rouge, Ala., today to examine movies of the Louisanna State team and scout the Louisanna - Mississippi State game Saturday.

Other assignments: line coaches Nick Skorich and Chuck Cherundolo to Lansing, Mich., for the Michigan State - Minnesota game; Boris Dmancheff to Dallas, Tex., for the Southern Methodist-Arkansas game; end coach Lowell Perry to Nashville, Tenn., for the Central State-Prairie View game.

Dimancheff will spend next week in the Southwest Conference section looking for talent.

The player draft begins Nov. 25 in Philadelphia.

Parker said he figured approximately 10 top-ranking backs are available this season. He said he felt he could obtain at least one as a starter for next season.

Pitt Adds Duke to Basketball Card

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The University of Pittsburgh has added a home basketball game with Duke on Dec. 21 to bring its schedule up to 24 games, including 11 at home.

Pitt opens Dec. 4 against Michigan at Memorial Stadium.

Agree on Purse

YONKERS, N.Y. (UP) — Yonkers Raceway, the nation's largest harness racing track in both attendance and pari-mutuel handle, hoped today for quick agreement on a new purse formula with the Standardbred Owners Association. Many owners individually boycotted the track for three weeks last summer when the track refused to increase purse money.

IN 58 DAYS A '58 PLYMOUTH RAN 58,000 MILES—EQUAL TO

MORE THAN TWICE AROUND THE WORLD

AND IT DROVE EVERY INCH OF THE WAY!

We knew this car was tough

We designed it that way.

That's why we weren't afraid to give Plymouth the toughest, true test run of all time... with all America as the "track."

We didn't coddle this Plymouth. Didn't crate it and ship it carefully from place to place. Instead, we aimed it out of Los Angeles one misty morning and sent it through a course that ran 58,000 miles through 37 states.

The time limit? Only 58 days.

A thousand miles a day!

The equivalent of 6 years' driving crammed into little more than 8 weeks!

Three times this car crossed the Rockies Three times it wound its way across the country... passing through more than 1200 cities and towns. Whipping over turnpikes... creeping through city traffic... arrowing down super-highways... feeling its way through rutted detours At the end, it still looked, ran and rode like new.

This is what lasting value really means The ability to take everything that American roads and weather can dish out—and come up grinning. Why don't you give Plymouth a test drive yourself—today? You'll see what we mean.

That's the Plymouth "track"... and just look at that route! Every possible road and weather condition. Plymouth ran every inch of that murderous route 3 times in just 58 days. What greater proof of lasting, built-in stamina!

Star of the Forward Look... Plymouth ahead for keeps!

Seal Drive Is Opened In County

A goal of $60,000 has been set for the 51st annual Christmas Seal Sale which opens today in Westmoreland county.

A spokesman for the County Public Health Association said the actual sale will extend until the middle of February.

In the 51 years since the first Christmas Seal appeared in America, great progress has been made in the control of tuberculosis.

The disease has been knocked down from the nation's number one infectious disease killer to number nine.

More New Cases

But the County Public Health Association pointed out that this is no time for complacency. Last year, more new cases of TB were reported in Pennsylvania than were found the year before.

A year ago, the nation spent $600 million to treat and control the disease.

Tuberculosis is still a serious threat. The average patient spends 15 months in the hospital before his case is marked "arrested."

Tuberculosis is a bigger threat when men and women refuse to be hospitalized, or leave a hospital before their cases are non-infectious, and go back into every-day life infecting others with the disease.

Special Service At St. Michael's Syrian Church

St. Michael's Syrian Orthodox Church, Monessen, observed its parish feast day this past Sunday with a special religious service and a banquet.

Metropolitan Antony Bashir, head of the Syrian Antiochian Archdiocese of North America, officiated at the Divine Liturgy. He was assisted by Rev. John Koury, pastor at St. Michael's.

During the service, the Metropolitan ordained six Monessen youths as altar boys. Metropolitan Bashir later spoke at a parish banquet.

Other ministers attending the affair included Rev. John Govrusik, of St. John The Divine Russian Orthodox Church: Rev. Michael Yarosh of St. Nicholas Ukranian Church; Rev. Joseph of Greensburg, Rev. David Abromovitz of Bridgeville and Rev. Ofesh of New Kensington.

The banquet meal was prepared by the Ladies Society of St. Michael's. The Syrian Orthodox Youth Association served the affair.

Syrian dancing and a variety show was presented after the meal.

Serving as toastmaster was Mike Namie of Donora, who also offered a vocal solo. The program included several acts from a Monessen dance studio.

Hazardous Leisure

LONDON (UP) — The authoritative medical journal Lancet said today that televiewing could now be included in the list of "hazardous occupations." The journal, organ of the British Medical Association, warned TV viewers against becoming too engrossed in the programs and advised them to get up and walk about at least once every hour to prevent thrombosis in the leg. It also said that before sitting down to a night's viewing, viewers should remove girdles and other tight garments.

Half of the Adults in The U. S. Stay Home On Sunday Morning

By LOUIS CASSELS

WASHINGTON (UP) — Nearly 50 million adults attend worship services in U. S. churches and synagogues each week.

Slightly more than 50 million stay home.

Like most statistics, these figures can be interpreted in two ways. The church attendance figure can be, and often is, cited as evidence that this country is experiencing a major religious revival. It is the highest in history, up 10 million from 1950. It dwarfs the church-going statistics of other countries (in Britain, for example, only one adult out of seven regularly attends worship services.)

But any pastor, priest or rabbi who is inclined to rejoice in today's big congregations is quickly brought down to earth by the figure on non-attendance. Even in this period of great popular interest in religion, the number of worshippers on a typical weekend constitutes slightly less than half of the total adult population.

Churches Work Hard

Many churches work hard at the task of bringing the absentees into the fold. They hold revival meetings, conduct house - to - house canvasses, bring in guest speakers, advertise their services in community newspapers, provide coffee hours for newcomers, and baby-sitting facilities for young parents.

Their year-round efforts will be strongly reinforced during the next few weeks by a nationwide public service advertising campaign sponsored by the Religion in American Life Committee.

The committee, headed this year by former Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens, is composed of laymen from all major religious faiths. Each fall since 1949, it has enlisted the cooperation of America's mass communications media to promote church attendance.

About $7,500,000 worth of free advertising space has already been promised to this year's drive. More than 1,000 participating newspapers will carry an average of 10 advertisements each. The outdoor advertising industry is donating 5,500 billboards to display RIAL posters.

Most television and radio stations will carry this weekend a special 30-minute broadcast, introduced by President Eisenhower, explaining the goals and purposes of the campaign.

Single, Brief Message

In addition to this initial program, spot announcements will be carried on some 300 regular network radio and TV broadcasts and thousands of local station breaks during the next few weeks.

The whole campaign is built around a single, brief message, which RIAL leaders chose as the 1957 theme. It is not the only reason for attending church and some ministers might say it is not the best. But it may prove to have a very timely appeal for a nation whose anxieties have lately been heightened by Soviet success in building long-range rockets.

The message, which you'll be seeing and hearing many times this month, is:

"Find the strength for your life . . .worship together this week."

Claims GOP Has Good Chance to Control House

CHICAGO (UP)—Sputniks and the integration crisis notwithstanding, Rep. Richard M. Simpson (R-Pa.) said Wednesday night the Republicans have a "good" chance of controlling the House of Representatives in 1958.

Simpson, chairman of the Republican National Congressional Campaign Committee, said the GOP, with 201 seats in the House, will pick up 17 more next year.

The Republicans should lose no "southern seats" because of the Little Rock, Ark., integration situation, he said, but will probably gain seats in "marginal areas" where Democrats had a close contest in the last election.

Simpson discounted the effect of the Soviet satellites on the elections because "within the next few months we will outdo whatever the Russians have done."

Admitting that recent elections in New York and New Jersey indicated the GOP is "in trouble," Simpson said the only alternative to a Republican victory next year would be a "Truman administration."

Lutheran Ladies Aid Society Elects Officers

The Lynnwood Lutheran Church Ladies Aid Society met on Wednesday evening in the church social rooms and elected officers for next year. Those elected were Mrs. Charles Nalepa, president; Mrs. John Wagner, vice president; Mrs. Jack Manown, secretary; Mrs. William Pierotti, treasurer.

Mrs. Emil Revala presided and the opening devotionals began with the hymn, "My Faith Looks Up To Thee". Mrs. James Percy read the scripture and Mrs. T. Edwin Carson read the topic, "What Salvation Involves."

Routine reports were given, and named to the December altar committee were Mrs. Revalla and Mrs. Harold Heffner.

Plans were made for a covered dish dinner at the December meeting. Each member is to bring a 50 cent gift for exchange. The hostesses will provide meat and rolls, the officers will bring the dessert, and the other members will bring the vegetables.

The group also planned to serve the refreshments at a wedding reception on Feb. 1, 1958.

Donations were voted to the Old Peoples Home and Children's Home at Zelienople.

The members will give cash donations for the Harvest Home offering to the treasurer, Mrs. John Klanchar. They will also collect used clothing for Lutheran World Relief.

A contribution will be made from the treasury for the debt reduction fund of the church.

The hostess, Mrs. William Pierotti, served luncheon assisted by Mrs. Charles Nalepa.

Council Votes $15 Monthly Salary to All New Members

Belle Vernon Borough Council passed ordinance 210 at a meeting held last night in the borough building. The ordinance requires that a $15 monthly salary be paid to all new council members taking office Jan. 1.

John Cavanaugh, George Fedarko and Alex Basits voted in favor of the ordinance and Joseph Caputo cast the only dissenting vote.

The ordinance was turned over to Burgess William Venneri for his signature, but he reported that he would return it unsigned to the next meeting. If the salary is to be paid the ordinance will have to be approved over his veto.

Basits conducted the session during which Albert Dominick was appointed to fill the unexpired term of Robert Schmidt, who resigned from council last month. Dominick will serve to the first of the year on Schmidt's term and will then begin the term to which he has been elected.

It was reported that the sum of $337.51 was collected in taxes this past month. Patsy Ginglardi, treasurer, announced a balance of $15,851.24 in all accounts.

Fire Chief Kenneth Beazell announced that the Seagrave representative will make a few minor repairs to the fire truck.

Secretary Joseph Ferrari was instructed to contact the West Penn Power Co. concerning conditions for the Christmas street lighting.

Robert Schmidt was appointed to a five year term on the Municipal Authority of the Borough of Belle Vernon. He succeeds Robert Lange.

Cavanaugh reported that $93.29 was collected in the parking meters last month. Alex Basits Jr., meter maintenance man, reported that three meters were overhauled, and all meters are now in good condition. They are fully paid for at this time.

It was also decided to advertise for bids for hauling the garbage in the borough in 1958.

Girl Scouts in Tuesday Meeting

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 50 met on Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the Lynnwood Lutheran Church. Geraldine Carozza was flag bearer for the opening ceremonies.

Vice President Pat McCauley was in charge. Fay Braddock gave the financial report, and Ann Jedrziewski distributed additional Girl Scout calendars.

The girls worked on their tenderfoot rank and studied about the life of Juliet Low.

Geraldine Carozza led the closing horseshoe ceremony. The leader, Mrs Rose Parshall was assisted by Mrs. Doris Jedrziewski, committeewoman.

PTA Executive Committee Meets

The executive committee of the Vernon Parent Teacher Association met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. James Price of Baltimore St.

Plans were made to present each teacher in the district with a carnation on visitor's day during National Education week.

Mrs. Robert Johnston, president, was in charge. Plans were completed for the membership meeting next Monday evening in Bellmar High School auditorium. A film, "Skippy and the Three R's" will be shown.

Bellmar Class to Plan for Reunion

Tonight at 7:30 a meeting will be held by the members of the Bellmar High School graduating class of 1953 at the Diaper Bar.

At that time final plans will be made for the reunion to be held at the Charleroi Elks Club on Nov. 23. Albert Zema, class president, will be in charge.

David Trozzo Is Honor Guest

David Trozzo, son of Mr. and Mrs John Trozzo of 1 James St. observed his third birthday anniversary with a party on Tuesday at his home. This was the first birthday the little boy spent in the United States. He was in Honolulu with his parents, while his father served in the U.S. Air Force, for his first and second anniversaries.

Guests present were Tim Burke, Sandy McLaughlin, Lorene Stura, Sherry Diaz, Larry Pavlekosky and Debby Trozzo. All were accompanied by their mothers.

Mrs. Trozzo served refreshments assisted by Mrs. Pharone Martin of Charleroi, maternal grandmother of the honored guest. Each guest received a favor, and David was presented many gifts.

Daffy Club in Recent Meeting

Two tables of cards were in play when the members of the Daffy Club were entertained on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Mary Vraddock.

Those receiving high score prizes were Teff Grados, Elaine Green, and Jennie Ciferno. The floating award was won by Anna Jean Laird.

Plans were discussed for the annual Christmas party to be held at Peasant Village. The next meeting was planned for the home of Helen Serwinski.

Luncheon was served by the hostess.

Brownie Troop Investiture Ceremonies Held Wednesday

Investiture ceremonies were held on Wednesday evening for girls of Belle Vernon Brownie Troop 26 in the Little House. The girls had their mothers as guests.

The leader, Mrs. Olga Miller, and co-leader, Mrs. Elmira Luce, were introduced. The girls then introduced their mothers. The candle ceremony was used. Mrs. Miller lighted a yellow candle representing the Brownie Promise and explained the Promise to the mothers.

A blue candle was lighted as a symbol of the World Friendship program. Mrs. Miller then explained the Juliet Low fund and the World Friendship pin.

The girls were then invested. Receiving their second stars were Janelle Williams and Pamela Peterson: first star, Patty Costella, Tara Bickerton, Joanne Riskey and Wilma Jean Venneri.

Girls receiving their first year Brownie pins were Susan Barger, Kathy Cramer, Marilyn Devers, Toni Kyle, Bonnie Luce, Adele Popelas, Marlene Randall, Barbara Sanino, Carol Teuche, Louise While, Sharon and Joyce Rosborough.

Mrs. Miller pinned Mrs. Luce as her co-leader, and Mrs. William Venneri and Mrs. Tom Costello as committee mothers.

The first year Brownies were taken into the horseshoe circle, and they then performed the flag ceremony. Janelle Williams was American Flag bearer and Pemela Peterson, Brownie flag bearer. Color guards were Patty Costella and Wilma Jean Venneri. After the pledge, singing of America and the Brownie promise, a program was presented in which all girls participated.

Luncheon was served by the committee mothers assisted by Mrs. Betty Bickerton. The girls used the "electric circle" closing ceremony.

There will be no meeting of this troop tomorrow and on Nov. 23 all candy orders must be in.

Last Saturday the girls met for a business session in the Little House.

Girl Scouts in Tuesday Meeting

Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 31 met on Tuesday evening in the Little House with the leader, Mrs. Freeda Martin, in charge. Routine duties were conducted by Mary Eileen Dunn and Karen Evans. Flag bearers and color guards in the opening ceremony were Robinette Jesick, Joyce McGavitt, Mary Ann Huscovitz and Ginger Houseman.

Second class requirements in dramatics were studied by the girls.

Candy lists were given out for the Christmas candy project.

The members of the Protectors Club of the Dames of Malta will be held next Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Vera Schmidt with Mrs. Anna Hoffman as cohostess.

Burgess Named Sergeant-at-arms

Belle Vernon Burgess William Venneri received word yesterday from American Legion Department Commander John Collins of Connellsville that he has been named to serve as sergeant-at-arms in the Department of Pennsylvania Legion.

Venneri is a past commander of Belle Vernon Post 659 and is presently acting as local service officer. For four years he served as deputy district commander of the 31st District and worked with Collins.

Girl Scout Troop In Tuesday Meeting

Girl Scouts of Troop 44 and 56 met on Tuesday evening in the social rooms of the Marion Presbyterian Church. After the opening the girls joined in the Girl Scout promise.

The girls made plans to make Christmas presents for their mothers.

New scouts worked on tenderfoot badges, and the other girls worked on merit badges. Calendars for 1958 were distributed.

The girls will sell Christmas candy.

Bellmarette Building Project Reports Made

Further discussion on the building projects at Bellmar High School and Marion Junior High School highlighted the Tuesday evening meeting of the Bellmarette Joint School Board. It was held in Bellmar High School Library with President Blandon Bulger in charge.

All members of the North Belle Vernon board were present along with George Trozzo, Joseph Hoffman, Gerald Stanley and J. E. Kuhn, Belle Vernon; George Hancock, Bernard Sarra and Charles Lakel, Fayette City; and John Kasuda, Bulger and Richard Hamer, Washington Township.

Supervising Principal Robert VanBremen, Elementary Supervisor Joseph Brisbane and Solicitor John Costello also attended.

Kuhn reported on two meetings of the special building committee of which he is chairman. One was held on Oct. 29, when it was voted to deviate on the Bellmar project in the amount of $240. The members also voted at this time to pay architect's fees in the amount of $6,434.53 as soon as the reimbursement is received from the State School Building Authority. The second session was held on Nov. 8 with all those involved in the Bellmar project attending. It was decided to change plans for pier construction, and work according to the new plan started on Monday of this week.

Cooking Change

Kuhn also suggested that the planned cafeteria cooking system be changed from electric to gas in order to save about $3000. This can be done since gas is already installed.

At Marion Junior High, domes, clock system and public address system will be added to present plans. Additions at Bellmar will include rolling screens, clock system, roller shutters in the kitchen, score board and public address system. This will be financed through the contingent fund if enough money is available. The committee will select furniture and equipment in the near future.

Costello presented an opinion handed down in Fayette County Court in connection with a Redstone Twp. dispute, and analyzed it as it could apply to the local board. Kuhn reported additional information has been received concerning the proposed Social Security program in the system.

There were no reports from the administration and transportation committees.

The building and grounds committee advised that the Marion Junior High gymnasium floor he renovated and VanBremen was instructed to turn the work over to the school's painting crew.

New Machine

Carmine Natalini reported for the supplies and equipment committee that a new calculating machine has been purchased for $850.

The personnel committee announced that Edmund Rizzuto of Monessen was named to serve as band director to succeed the late Ernest Dolfi. Joseph Petaccia of Monessen was employed as instrumental and vocal instructor in the school system. He is a Duquesne University graduate and years. He will take over the vocal program at Bellmar and assist in directing the band.

Mrs. Emma Williams of Fayette City was named to replace James Miller, who resigned as a math and science teacher at Marion.

Dr. Vincent Bolton and Dr. Harold Underwood were approved by the Health Department as the medical and dental examiner. The salary rate will be the same as last year.

Brisbane reported on activities in the elementary schools. He announced an art workshop at Marion set for next April 8, 9 and 10. He also announced that a film, "Gregory Learns to Read," would be shown today at 4 o'clock at Vernon Junior High. Miss Shaffer, an English consultant will attend local classes Dec. 2 and 3 to help teachers with any problems in that field.

Speech Report

VanBremen reported on the work of Miss Coatsworth, Fayette County School speech correctionist, who works in the system. She has prepared a complete report on all children in the elementary schools, who need speech help.

VanBremen reported that he is spending considerable time in conferences concerning the building program, and announced that he met with High School Principal Raymond Barker and Marion Principal Harold Underwood to discuss with them and Tom Craig of Kurtz Bros, the furniture needed for the new building.

VanBremen also outlined the selling programs being conducted by the students in the various schools.

The board passed a resolution of sympathy for the family of the late Ernest Dolfi, who was band director.

By school law all four component boards will be required to reorganize the first Monday in December so the Joint Board will reorganize on Dec. 4 and will also have the regular meeting at that time.

Breakwell was instructed to pay all bills for which funds are available.

Round-the-world wonder at a wonderful price

Proved and approved around the world

The 58 Ford is the first car ever to use the whole world as its test track.

One ride in the 58 Ford and you'll wonder how such a fine car could cost so little

Most people guess way too high on the 58 Ford's price. Can't blame 'em, though. There's never been a Ford like this before. Yet, it's priced with the very lowest.

A brand-new look. There's nothing newer in the world of fashion than Ford's new Honeycombed grille, new Slipstream roof, new Safety-Twin lights front and rear, new sculptured rear deck. Expect to be envied in this new world of styling!

New Interceptor V-8 power. The world's leading V-8 maker brings you a unique new V-8 for 58. And Precision Fuel Induction makes the powerful difference. Precision Fuel Induction is a totally new system of carburetion, fuel feeding and combustion that gives you smoother power, more power and far better gas mileage. Only Ford brings you Precision Fuel Induction . . . the most important V-8 improvement in 25 years.

New! Overdrive economy. Ford's new, optional Cruise-O-Matic is a real penny pincher. It uses a gas-saving rear axle ratio for overdrive economy. Just how much can you save on gas? Up to 15% when you team Cruise-O-Matic with Ford's new Interceptor V-8 engine. In addition to more miles per gallon, Cruise-O-Matic lets you go from brisk take-offs to turnpike speeds, smooth as Italian silk. And even on slippery roads, Cruise-O-Matic starts you on your way gently, surely.

You can ride on air. New, optional Ford-Aire Suspension has four air "pillows"—one at each wheel—instead of metal springs. No matter how many passengers get in or out, the car is automatically releveled. And no matter how much baggage you put in the trunk or how you load it, Ford-Aire automatically returns the car to proper riding height.

You'll steer almost as easy as pointing with Ford's Magic-Circle steering. Steering effort is transmitted through free-rolling balls for far less friction . . . much easier handling.

Pay more, what for? Ford, the car that was proved and approved around the world, brings you the biggest new-car news for 58 . . . at low Ford prices. Come in and drive the fine car at half the fine-car price.

New Grouping Plan Is Used by Teachers at Washington School

(This is the fifth in a series of articles prepared by the Monessen Education Association in connection with the 37th annual observance of American Education Week. Today's article was prepared by teacher Margaret Russell and relates to the Washington elementary school.)

"Is my child in the better group?"

That is a question often asked of teachers at the Washington school where the enrollment requires two classes for each grade.

Even the pupils, themselves, are curious about their groups and they ask similar questions.

But these queries may be outmoded in a year or so. Washington teachers have devised a new group method which has thus far proved exceptionally successful.

Until a year ago children at Washington generally remained with the same group through the first six grades. Each year the class had a new teacher but the pupils in the class did not vary very much.

In the spring of 1956, when it was evident that the enrollment would be large enough to require two groups in each of the first five grades, the teachers in the building agreed to try a different plan for the 1956-57 school year.

The new plan was this:

Each teacher made the customary promotion list, which is an alphabetized list of the children who are promoted to the next grade. The names on each list were numbered. Since there were two first grade groups to be promoted, one taught by Teacher A and the other by Teacher B, there were two promotion lists.

The odd-numbered names on both lists were assigned to second grade Teacher C. The even-numbered names went to second grade Teacher D. In like fashion the groups were formed for grade three through five.

For the new first grade groups the assignment list prepared by the attendance officer was numbered. Odd-numbered names were assigned to first grade Teacher A, even-numbered to first grade Teacher B.

Exceptions to the procedure were made for children who were not being promoted, for children who had physical defects which made it difficult to use stairs, and for twins whose parents did not want them separated.

New Grouping Plan

What was the reason for trying a new plan of grouping? It was believed that the change would improve the morale of individual pupils, of the school, and of the teachers. The child who had had an unsuccessful year would have the opportunity to work not only with a different teacher but with a different group.

If he had been tagged the crybaby of his previous group, a new class would give him the chance to get rid of the unwelcome name. Likewise, the girl who had the reputation of being the best reader in her class might have to work to achieve that reputation in a new group.

School spirit would be improved. When one room or group, year after year, is always first to achieve 100 per cent contributions to the Community Chest, other groups do not make much effort. Cliques that invariably form in every group would have difficulty existing from year to year.

As for the teacher, she could not feel that the most difficult children or the largest groups or the poorly prepared children were always assigned to her. She would have the opportunity of developing a united group instead of inherting one.

In the spring of 1957 the teachers reviewed the success of the plan during that school year and agreed to continue it for the school year 1957-58.

Lazy Robbers

NEW YORK (UP)— Two lazy holdup men apparently ordered their prey by telephone Thursday. Service station operator James Mulea answered his phone and a voice asked him to drive to Manhattan's Bowery and Canal streets to repair a truck which had broken down. When he got there two men jumped in his car and robbed him of $580.

To Honor Laika

BERLIN (UP)— A Soviet scientist said today the name of Laika will be inscribed on an "honor plaque" along with the names of other heroic Russian dogs. Scientist J. W. Krylow, in an interview carried by the East German News Service ADN, said the inscription for the dog which died in Sputnik II will read "dedicated to the first living being that penetrated the cosmos."

U. S. Moon Volunteers

By JAMES BAAR

WASHINGTON (UP)—The United States may not have any satellites aloft yet but it has plenty of volunteers ready to climb aboard them.

The Pentagon and Naval Research Laboratory — headquarters of satellite project Vanguard —said today they have received dozens of letters and phone calls from would-be space explorers.

Even Premier Nikolai Bulganin said in Moscow he has received a letter from two American girls who want to be space pioneers, even if they have to ride a Red moon.

A Vanguard spokesman said a man calling himself "a crazy Irishman" telephones every other day to offer his services as a space traveler.

"He says he wants to get up in a satellite so he can shoot down the Russian Sputniks," the spokesman said.

"I keep telling him the satellite is only 20 inches wide and he keeps insisting he is very small and he'll go on a diet."

A 13-year old Georgia boy—apparently somewhat more hefty—wrote to the Pentagon he is ready to hop aboard a satellite if it is made larger.

A South Carolina airman wrote simply to Secretary of Defense Neil H. McElroy: "I'd like to be the first man to embark on so great an adventure in outer space."

The Vanguard spokesman said none of the people who has contacted the Naval Research Laboratory about becoming spacemen has asked for pay of any kind.

"They just want to go as quickly as possible," he said.

Snakes have large scales on their undersides and each scale is connected to a rib.

Be Careful When Borrowing Money, Loan Experts Claim

(The third of three dispatches on the small loan business. Today—How to borrow wisely.)

By FRED DANZIG

NEW YORK (UP) — "Neither a borrower nor lender be," wrote William Shakespeare.

Many of our lending institutions tack on to this phrase, "except in case of emergency."

The fact is that 33 billion dollars worth of instalment credit outstanding is helping our economy go 'round this year.

Our 10,745 small loan offices this year are lending 5½ billion dollars of this amount, in about 16 million loans, and they expect a 12 per cent increase in volume next year. Ten years ago, the small loan industry volume was $1,400,000,000, in 9½ million loans.

The growth of our small loan industry, made possible by so-called uniform small loan laws (which are actually far from uniform) has taken most of the bite out of the loan shark.

Loan Firms Regulated

Legal, strictly regulated small loan, or consumer finance companies, now are lending money at a maximum annual interest rate of 36 per cent. But this figure is lower in practice because the 3 per cent monthly interest is applied to declining monthly balances.

Recently some sharp operators tried to make a fast buch through "debt adjustment agencies." They would see your creditors and arrange, or try to arrange, satisfactory payment schedules for you. For this service, you were charged a fee. In effect, you ended up with one more debt, since the debt adjustor didn't lend you money to pay off the other debts.

There's one rule to remember when you must borrow money: "Borrow from the best." And if you can't get a bank loan, go to a licensed small loan office. These small loan offices are restricted as to what they may charge. No investigation fee, brokerage fee or service charges. When permitted, small loan companies also try to provide you with an insurance policy.

Learn The Rules

The law requires them to make the terms of the loan clear to you. And you must be given a fundamental record of your payments, the dates due, the amounts and the nature of your security.

—Don't sign papers before the figures are filled in.

—Stay away from the loan broker who wants a fee for arranging the loan.

—Watch out for the salary buyer. He doesn't lend you money. He buys your salary at a bargain price.

—If a note is pre - dated from the time you get the money, you're mixed up in some hanky-panky.

—If you're asked to sign more than one note for one loan, you're getting booked.

—The lender must give you copies of the papers you sign and receipts for the money you pay.

In the final analysis, your best bet is to look for the state license in the office. If the lender is legitimate, he'll have one.

SALLY'S SALLIES

"Now dear, I'm trying to open up a new account; our old one is definitely overdrawn."

Be Sure and Get The Two Separated

BERLIN (UP)—The Communists have told parents to give their children military toys to teach them "patriotism." But they cautioned against getting Eastern and Western toy soldiers mixed up.

East German newspapers today quoted a Colonel Engel as saying parents must make it clear to the children that Western soldiers are "imperialist aggressors" and that Eastern soldiers are "defenders of peace."

Union Leader Praises Authority For Resolution

HARRISBURG (UP) Joseph A. McDonough, president of the Pennsylvania Federation of Labor, has praised the state Public School Building Authority for adopting a resolution calling for payment of prevailing wage scales on agency projects.

McDonough, speaking on behalf of the Construction Trades Unions, said the resolution would make a "tremendous contribution" to management - labor relations in the school construction industry.

The authority adopted the resolution Wednesday after a stormy session over who was going to be given sponsorship credit. After the entire seven member agency sponsored the resolution, it was passed unanimously.

Girl Scouts in Revision

PHILADELPHIA (UP) —A revised constitution, proposed by the board of directors, was accepted Wednesday by the Girl Scouts of America at their 34th national convention following lengthy dispute.

The revision met with a storm of protests at first but was voted on after the business session was extended four hours to allow for discussion. Delegates from New Hampshire charged the revised constitution was illegal in reference to the scope and intent of the Congressional charter granted the Girl Scouts.

Some aspects of the Girl Scout handbook were cited as un-American last year by the American Legion which now has before it a measure from the New Hampshire Department criticizing the new constitution as "undemocratic and contrary to the principles inherent in the American way of life."

The main issue of dispute among the 8,500 delegates was an item stating an elected officer may be removed from office without cause by vote of three-fourths of the total number of board members. One delegate termed the item "impeachment without appeal."

An amendment was proposed providing that an officer so removed be permitted to appeal at the next national council meeting. The group voted down the proposal.

Friday at 2 p.m. — Pre-school children.

In addition to stories, new books will be released to children during the week.

Miss Drake pointed out that "parents are invited to come to the library between the hours of 2 and 4:30 p.m. on Monday to look over some of the best of the children's books."

The librarian reminded that books make wonderful Christmas gifts and that parents will have an opportunity to see the best on Monday.

Miss Drake said she will be happy to discuss books with the parents.

Pay Raise Granted

TAIPEI, Formosa (UP) — The United States has turned down a Nationalist Chinese request for American aid funds to boost the pay of Nationalist employes and military personnel, it was disclosed today. Government officials said, however, that the cabinet has decided to go ahead anyway with an across-the-board raise for 100,000 government workers and 600,000 servicemen. The cost to the American - supported government will be at least 18 million dollars and where the money is to come from is the big question in parliament.

Fainting No Sign of Bad Heart

By H. N. BUNDESEN, M. D.

Fainting can be a frightening experience. Yet, in most cases, it need not be for, generally, a fainting spell is easy to explain.

To put it simply, fainting or dizzy spells are caused when the brain receives less blood than it should.

An emotional disturbance, for example, can cause you to faint by constricting the small blood vessels in the brain. Most such attacks pass quickly and the victim is easily revived.

Smoking and, occasionally, even drinking coffee might cause a person to faint. Both are stimulants and may provoke constriction of the small blood vessels, thus cutting down the brain's blood supply.

Neither of these, however, is a common cause of fainting. If they do cause giddiness or loss of consciousness, however, the simple remedy is to stop smoking or drinking coffee.

Tight Collar

A tight collar might cause fainting. You see, the brain gets its blood supply through the cartotid artery. This artery divides into two branches just under the jaw, one coursing inward to the brain, the other extending up the side of the face to a spot just above the temple.

At the juncton of these two branches is nerve tissue, which we call the carotid sinus. Stimulation of this tissue can cause a drop in the blood supply headed toward the brain.

Thus, a tight collar, pressing on the carotid sinus might bring on a fainting spell, or at least a bit of giddiness.

Seldom does heart disease cause fainting but two fairly rare heart ailments — a heart block and a narrowing of the aortic valve — can be the source of the trouble in some instances.

Generally speaking, though, if you have no history of heart disease, the heart probably is not the cause of your fainting sessions.

Nature, incidentally, automatically helps to revive you should you faint. Losing consciousness, naturally, causes you to fall. With your head level with the rest of your body, the blood once again can course fully to the brain.

Question and Answer

M. S.: Is Bright's disease always fatal?

Answer: Bright's disease is a term used to describe kidney disturbances. Since many such conditions can be corrected by adequate medical and surgical treatment, Bright's disease is not always fatal.

In Hollywood—

Francis X. Bushman Pulling for Grandson

By VERNON SCOTT

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Francis X. Bushman looked proudly up to his towering grandson today and hoped the 26-year-old fledgling actor will someday reach the heights he himself scaled 50 years ago.

Bushman was lunching with Pat Conway — his daughter Virginia's 6-foot, 3-inch son — who stars in the television series "Tombstone."

"He's my last hope for family stardom," Bushman said. "All the others have dropped out of show business."

Young Pat was anxious to talk about his career, but Grandpa Bushman took the spotlight. The enormous difference between the flamboyant oldtimers and today's spoon-fed newcomers was reflected in their relationship. Bushman had "show biz" written all over him. Pat looked like a businessman.

Bushman played it large, with gestures and stentorian pronouncements.

Lived In Luxury

"At the height of my career I had a dozen secretaries and lived in a mansion on 288 acres," the grizzled veteran said. "My home cost a quarter of a million to keep up. I had 28 servants and drove a $20,000 Marmon car. It was royal purple trimmed with gold."

"Bushy really lived it up," Pat put in.

"I earned six million bucks in one five-year period," his 72-year-old grandparent continued, "and I spent it faster than it came in. But I have no regrets. I would spend it even faster today.

"I pray that Pat achieves the same things, but it's not possible. Young actors don't have the authority or distinction they did when I was a star."

"The halcyon days are over for movie stars," Pat agreed. "No star lives the way Bushy did."

Flashily dressed in sports coat, slacks and weskit, Bushman still is ruggedly good - looking, more handsome, in fact, than young Conway. He lives modestly in a small bungalow overlooking the Pacific, spending his spare time surf fishing.

Studied Bushy's Movies

"I've studied all of Bushy's old pictures," said Pat. "Most young actors do. And I've learned a lot from them, even though he made his last big picture more than 30 years ago."

Pat maneuvered the conversation toward his ABC-TV program, then winced when Grandpa interrupted, "I don't think he should work in horse operas. I never played in one in my life. He's worthy of greater things.

"But no matter how good Pat gets he'll never live the life of a movie star the way I did. Those days are lost forever."

Pat nodded mute agreement.

Tax Rate in Pittsburgh Up

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The city's school tax rate was set at 14 mills, an increase of three-fourths of a mill, in preliminary 1958 budget disclosed Wednesday by the Board of Education.

The increase will cost the average home owner $3.75 additional in school taxes.

School officials said the increase, authorized by the 1957 Legislature, became necessary when the fall stock market forced a reduction in anticipated revenue from the personal property tax, chiefly on stocks and bonds.

The estimated school budget for 1958 totals $27,490,537, an increase of $679,553 over 1957.

World of TV—

Sinatra Is Burned by .38 Blank

By WILLIAM EWALD

NEW YORK (UP) — The channel swim . . .

Frank Sinatra suffered a gunpowder wound when a .38 blank went off too close to the back of his neck during filming of his Nov. 29 ABC-TV show, "A Gun At His Back." The bandage he wears through the episode is for real. Incidentally, ABC - TV, disturbed by Sinatra's low ratings, is trying to coax more live shows out of him.

NBC radio and Mr. and Mrs. Steve Allen have just about closed a deal for a husband and wife gab show—it'll be beamed from the Aliens' Park Ave. apartment sometime after the turn of the year . . . Teddy Rooney, 6-year-old product of Mickey Rooney and Martha Vickers, makes his TV debut in "The Galvanized Yankee," a Dec. 5 offering on CBS-TV's Playhouse 90."

Jan Davis Weds

Singer Janette Davis and Frank Musiello, two members of the Arthur Godfrey family, secretly tied the knot on Oct. 17. Musiello is a member of the Godfrey production staff . . . Ed Murrow and Fred Friendly are sitting on seven hours of film they shot of Harry Truman. The former President is turning down all TV interview dates until a show is hashed out of it.

Bing Crosby has decided to pull out of a planned CBS weekly radio show as well as the CBS-TV spec he was slotted for on Dec. 11—Crosby's next date with the airwaves is Christmas Eve when he capers in this third annual "Sing With Bing."

Television records some sort of milestone Nov. 27 when ABC-TV beams out "Bamberger's Thanksgiving Parade of Light" — the pageant will feature a giraffe pulling a cage, inside of which heavyweight champ Floyd Patterson will stage a wrestling match with a gorilla, Gaby II. This Sunday's two - hour General Motors spec on NBC-TV will wind up on British TV on film. . .CBS-TV is planning to resuscitate the old "Suspense" show.

Merriman Bows Out

Check-outs: Randy Merriman is out as host of CBS-TV's "The Big Payoff"—Ted Steele is shaping up as his replacement . . . Del Sharbutt has pulled out of ABC-TV's "Do You Trust Your Wife" with Bill Nimmo taking over.

Robert Taylor, who treats TV like Asian flu, breaks his "no TV" rule when he introduces an upcoming "Navy Log" show, "Helldivers Over Greece."

The price of fame: After her rendition of "Jailhouse Rock" on "Your Hit Parade," Ginny Gibson received a fan letter from the "Entertainment Committee" at Sing Sing Prison—they invited her up to their place to repeat the number.

Marilyn Monroe Normal Housewife

NEW YORK (UP) — Marilyn Monroe, who may not look like just any housewife, admitted today that her bandaged thumb was due to a common household accident.

Miss Monroe said Wednesday she cut her thumb to the bone the night before last while she was slicing a roast for her husband, playwright Arthur Miller, and his two children.

Officials Armed

ACCRA, Ghana (UP)— Interior Minister Krobo Edusei said today that from now on cabinet ministers would be armed with revolvers. His announcement came in the face of outspoken anti-government sentiment throughout this young republic.

Don't Worry Over Knock-knees

By DELOS SMITH

NEW YORK (UP)— A study shows that knock-knees are fairly common in the very young but that knees as they grow older are very much inclined to stop knocking together.

This conclusion was based on precise measurements of 1,000 pairs of knees ranging in age from 11 years down to infants who had just learned to toddle around without help.

Dr. A. J. M Morley who recorded a "natural history" of knock-knees concluded that "toddlers' knock-knee can be allowed to join the growing group of developmental deviations which seldom need treatment."

Studied Age Groups

He found that 26 per cent of the children he studied who were between 3 and 3½ years old had only a slight amount of knock-kneedness or none at all.

But 22 per cent of the children that age had definite knock-knees Among children 7 years old or older, however, only 1 to 2 per cent had knock-knees of the same degree.

Knees get closer together up to between 3 and 3½ years and then start separating into normal spacing as the leg bones lengthen through natural growth, he found

His study was thorough enough to dispel some of the ages-old superstitions about knock-knees. For one thing, he found no relationship between knock-knees and flat feet. As a matter of fact, the feet of infants always look as though they were flat due to normal "fat pads."

No Link To Walking

Nor did he find any relationship between knock-knees and the age when the babe began walking, nor with how long the babe fed at the breast nor with whether the child's diet had been supplemented with vitamins during the first 18 months of life.

But there was an indicated relationship between knock - knees and weight, since the mean weights of children with the condition was greater than the mean weights of comparable children without it.

He concluded that knock-knees in children under seven "can probably be safely ignored unless it is excessive or unless an underlying cause is present," such as rickets or abnormalities in bone development.

Large Christmas Seal Emblem

HARRISBURG (UP)—The state Labor and Industry Department said today it will put on display the largest Christmas Seal emblem in the United States in lights on the front of its new 16-story building here.

The department said it will display the emblem by manipulating office lights from the third to 16th floor. The effect is obtained by leaving the lights on in certain offices, while others are blacked out.

The emblem will be shown each night from 5 to 11 p.m. until Nov. 22

Jobless Pay for Pregnancy

PITTSBURGH (UP)—The state Superior Court was asked today to decide whether "morning sickness" brought on by pregnancy is sufficient grounds for a woman to quit her job and obtain unemployment compensation.

The Commonwealth argued it was sufficient grounds in the case of Mrs. Georgia Rogan, a former employe of the Erie Resistor Corp.

Mrs. Rogan quit her job Nov. 21, 1956, when a cutback in work required her to transfer from the night shift, which was being eliminated, to the day shift.

She refused on grounds she could not work the day shift because of morning sickness. A certificate from a doctor supported her contention.

The Bureau of Employment Security refused her jobless benefits, but on appeal a referee reversed the board. A board of review later sustained the referee, and the company then appealed to the Superior Court.

Attorney Irving Olds Murphy, counsel for the company, argued the jobless benefits act was "not intended to be health insurance legislation nor intended to give compensated vacations whenever an employe finds it convenient not to work." He said morning sickness was "at best, a temporary condition."

Sydney Reuben, state deputy attorney general, said Mrs. Rogan acted in good faith and that her condition met all standards required to obtain unemployment compensation. He said she had good cause for quitting her job.

Widening of Route 51 May Be Started Soon

Plans for widening Route 51 from Elizabeth to the Westmoreland-Fayette County line are well advanced, it was announced today by N. G. Bell, district Highway Department engineer.

Bell disclosed that the design plans are now about 65 per cent completed.

The plans call for a four-lane concrete highway. There is a possibility that the project will be under contract within a year, Bell said.

When this particular stretch is finished, Route 51 will be four-lane from Pittsburgh to Uniontown. Other sections of the highway are already under contract for widening into four lanes.

Clark Will Ask Beaver River Survey Start

WASHINGTON (UP) — Rep. Frank M. Clark (D-Pa.) will ask the House Public Works Committee in January to take up the question of improving the Beaver River in Western Pennsylvania for navigation, it was disclosed today.

Clark will ask the committee to authorize a survey by the Corps of Engineers. This would be an initial step looking toward construction of a lock and dam on the Beaver River and widening and deepening of the stream.

Clark represents Butler, Beaver and Lawrence counties in Western Pennsylvania.

His proposal would resurrect the idea of a canal from the Ohio to Lake Erie—a project that has been opposed vigorously by Pittsburgh steel and railroad interests.

Youngstown interests have favored the canal project.
